The week's

WORST WAKE-UP CALL!

EastEnders: Mick Carter has some explaining to do when wife Linda returns from an overnight visit to her mum's to find her hungover husband in bed with Hayley Slater. The architect of this scenario is Halfway's big brother, Stuart Highway. And we reckon he'll be causing plenty more mayhem!

THE WEEK IN

The week's

MOST DANGEROUS DIY!

Emmerdale: Know-it-all Doug Potts is an unlikely source of excitement, but we reckon his bid to fix a broken door lintel could be the bizarre origin of a shock demise! We're told 'a terrible event unfolds, causing the death of a resident'. Could dopey Doug trigger a fatality?

➔ Check it out! See pages 20-21

The week's

BEST DETECTIVE WORK!

Corrie: David Platt may well be enduring his own nightmare in jail, but his ever-loyal lover, Shona Ramsey, is determined to see his rapist, Josh Tucker, behind bars instead of her fella. That sight gets a little closer when Shona continues to play detective and gets a lead... Go Sherlock Shona!

Our two-minute summary of the best of the best in the week's soaps!

The week's

MOST WELCOME RETURN!

EastEnders: Linda Carter may disagree (see above left) but we're delighted to see 'Hurricane' Hayley Slater back in Walford. Stacey Fowler is less keen, though, especially when Hayley's return scuppers her chances of a reunion with estranged hubby Martin.

➡ Check it out! See pages 12-13

The week's

SWEETEST PROPOSAL!

Neighbours: David Tanaka and Aaron Brennan's stop-and-start romance finally hits the accelerator when they both plan a surprise proposal, and the two fellas end up popping the question to each other! It's romance in the Aussie sun and it may mean Neighbours gets its first gay wedding! Our only question: Can we have an invite?

THE WEEK IN CORONATION

Trying to hide his fears, David warns his surprised cellmate to keep his hands to himself!

PRISON HELL...

for David & Shona!

DAVID IS FIGHTING BEHIND BARS - AND SHONA IS FIGHTING TO FREE HIM!

First with all this week's news on all the big stories!

STORY SO FAR It's hard to imagine that any good can come of someone killing themselves. But Aidan Connor's suicide led to David Platt finally revealing that he was raped by Josh Tucker.

In emotional scenes, David told former partner Shona Ramsey about the assault and they were reunited... but not for long.

While David was telling Shona everything, he should have been in court for his brutal beating of Gary Windass in the boxing ring after he was goaded by Josh. David was arrested for failing to appear at the hearing and he was locked up, and he still refused to tell the police what Josh did.

But Shona didn't stay quiet. She confronted Josh, who smugly told her she had no proof.

Shona, though, was convinced if she looked hard enough then she would find some...

THIS WEEK It quickly becomes clear that Shona needs to get troubled David out of prison... fast!

'David's very bad time gets worse this week,' our Corrie insider reveals.

David's asleep in his bunk when his cellmate, Paul, tries to wake him up. He's gentle about it and not wanting to frighten David, but he does.

'David opens his eyes and sees Paul standing over him, he feels threatened and he lashes out,' adds our source. 'He leaps up and shoves Paul against a wall.'

David's reaction is understandable, given what Josh did to him - but Paul doesn't know about that.

Shona is still the only person who knows. When she visits David in prison, she can see he's struggling and she begs him to tell his lawyer, Imran Habeeb, that he was raped. Will he?

That doesn't look likely, when David can't even bear knowing that Shona confronted Josh.

'Shona leaves David feeling worried that she's done more hard than good,' says our source.

But that still doesn't stop her going after Josh.

Shona steals Josh's CV from the garage and then tracks down his previous employers. She's hoping to dig up some dirt on Josh and she thinks she could be on to something when a former colleague of Josh's tells her he was sacked...

WHAT NEXT?

What Shona really needs is another bloke Josh knew to tell her he was raped by him, too. Recent reports suggests she finds one...

But what if Josh realises what she's up to? How far will he go to shut her up?

Shona knows the truth about Josh and she goes searching for other victims... Has she found one?

Summer wants to shine a light on how to support men with suicidal thoughts...

Summer SPEAKS OUT!

Aidan has a special place in Summer's heart and she wants to honour his memory!

STORY SO FAR Aidan Connor's sudden death hit Summer Spellman hard...

Her adoptive father had died and her guardian, vicar Billy Mayhew, got addicted to drugs and had to go into rehab. So it's no wonder the schoolgirl had a huge crush on Aidan - he was kind, encouraging and the most stable man she knew! Summer will never forget him...

THIS WEEK Summer wants to do something in memory of Aidan and she has a plan.

'Billy discovers Summer has been using an online forum for people who have lost someone through suicide,' reveals our Corrie insider.

She reveals how upset she is by Aidan's death and she tells him about an idea she's had called Speak & Save - it's to encourage young men to talk about mental health.

Billy's impressed and so are Carla and Jenny Connor, who offer Summer their support.

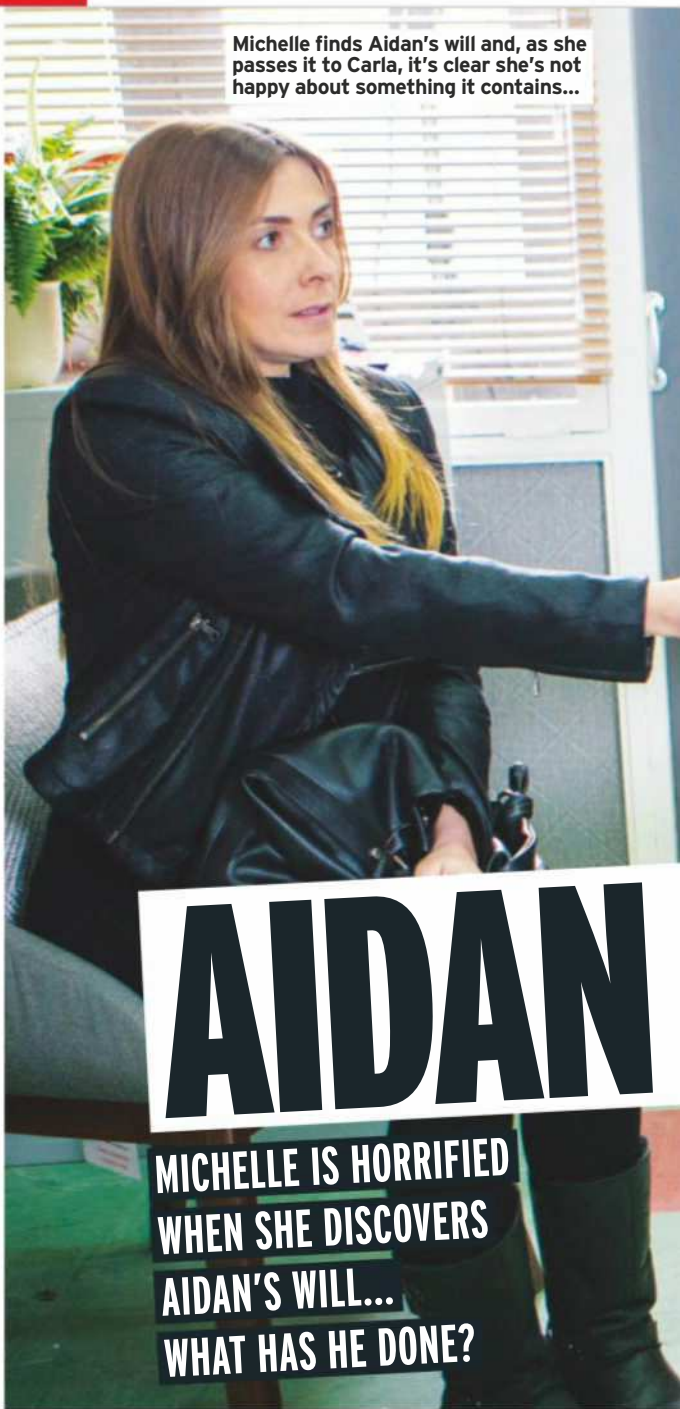

What Summer wants to start with is a fundraiser and one is organised to take place at Roy's Rolls. She's doing a good thing and Johnny Connor knows it, but he's still overcome with emotion.

WHAT NEXT?

Can Summer's initiative help heal the Connors' wounds? Or will it just make Johnny feel even more guilty?

He's devastated that Aidan didn't talk to him about whatever it was that made him feel he couldn't go on living. Johnny didn't 'speak and save' and he may hate being reminded of that...

Michelle finds Aidan's will and, as she passes it to Carla, it's clear she's not happy about something it contains...

AIDAN

MICHELLE IS HORRIFIED WHEN SHE DISCOVERS AIDAN'S WILL... WHAT HAS HE DONE?

When Michelle shows the will to Robert, his grim face reveals that the family has a problem...

LEAVES A BOMBSHELL!

STORY SO FAR It all became heartbreakingly clear to Aidan Connor's family after he took his own life... The emotional 'I'll miss ya' to his dad, Johnny, who was going to Spain; giving Liam Connor his watch when the lad admired it; buying Summer Spellman a party outfit because she'd been through so much; giving ex-fiancée Eva Price back her engagement ring; and promising Toyah Battersby her baby secret - that he was Susie's father - was safe with him.

It turns out all Aidan's secrets are safe with him, including why he killed himself.

THIS WEEK There is one massive and shocking discovery to be made this week, though... and it's found in Aidan's will!

Desperate to know why Aidan ended his own life, Johnny insists the family visits his son's flat to see if they can find a motive among his things. Johnny has a panic attack, though, and he leaves.

So Michelle and Carla Connor are left to go through Aidan's things. That's when Michelle finds his will. She's stunned by its contents and she quickly pockets it.

'That's not all she finds, though,' reveals our Corrie insider. 'She discovers a letter for Johnny, which she does give to him.'

With the family present, Johnny opens it and it simply reads, 'I'm sorry. Aidan'.

Sorry for what? For killing himself? Or for something he did before then?

Johnny falls apart and he turns to Liz McDonald for comfort, telling her that his wife, Jenny, is driving him crazy and he hates himself for failing his own son.

Michelle, meanwhile, doesn't know what to do about Aidan's will. First, she shows it to fiancé Robert Preston, then Carla and Jenny. And they all turn to Adam Barlow.

WHAT NEXT?

Adam always claimed Underworld should be his as it belonged to his dad, Mike Baldwin, and he fought and lost for it.

Has Aidan given him what he wanted? And are the Connor women trying to do a deal with him now?

Or do they need Adam's legal trickery because Aidan has left everything, including the factory, to someone outside the family? That's our guess...

DOES ZEEEDAN KILL FOR RANA?

Furious Zeedan loses control when a thug threatens Rana...

Has Zeedan's explosive anger proved fatal for this unlucky sex pest?

WHEN ZEEEDAN HEARS RANA WANTS A DIVORCE HE'S UPSET - AND THEN HE TURNS VIOLENT!

photos of them, thinking he can show

STORY SO FAR Zeedan Nazir still loves his wife, Rana - but she's in love with Kate Connor. He refuses to believe he's lost her for good, though, mistaking her desire not to hurt him any more than necessary as a different kind of desire...

Kate's warned her girlfriend Zeedan's getting the wrong idea about her feelings. But Rana still feels guilty about leaving him and she doesn't want to have to spell it out to Zeedan. She thinks that he'll understand in time...

THIS WEEK Rana finds out how wrong she is about Zeedan understanding how things are when he launches a horrific attack on another man...

Zeedan sees Sophie Webster with Kate and she thinks Kate's cheating on Rana! So he sets out to prove it. He tails them into town to a pub and he starts taking Rana that Kate's a cheat. But Rana turns up and she catches him! He admits his plan and she hits him with the 'D' word.

'Rana tells Zeedan she wants a divorce,' reveals Qasim Akhtar, who plays the heartbroken husband. 'She's never said this before and Zeedan suddenly realises he's just been wishful thinking.'

Zeedan leaves them in the pub - and that's where the big trouble starts. The girls are having fun until a bloke called Phil and his mates try to hit on them. The lads don't take rejection well and angry Phil follows the ladies to Weatherfield.

In the ginnel, Rana tells Kate she's asked for a divorce and they kiss - with Phil watching. He grabs Kate and Rana screams! Zeedan hears and runs to her.

'He loses it,' says Qasim. 'He punches Phil and knocks him out. All the rage that's been stuck inside him is let out.'

But has Zeedan killed Phil?

WHAT NEXT?

We know Qasim has quit Corrie and that means Zeedan will soon be making his exit. Will he become a killer on the run? Or will he be jailed for his attack on Phil?

And who's going to run Speed Daal when he's gone?! Maybe Bistro owner Robert Preston will branch out...

Aww! Tim makes Eileen a sweet banner to celebrate her return to the Street Cars office...

SURPRISE, EILEEN!

THERE'S GOOD NEWS FOR EILEEN, THEN SOMETHING UNSETTLES HER...

Eileen's touched by Steve and Tim's kindness, but she's later troubled by some unnerving phone calls...

STORY SO FAR Eileen Grimshaw has had a bumpy re-entry into the world of Weatherfield following the revelations of her husband Pat Phelan's horrific crimes.

There are still those who don't believe Eileen knew nothing of Phelan's murder spree. But that should be the least of Eileen's worries, as Phelan, the man she thinks she killed, is alive and very unhappy with her after he saw her on TV backing the 'Free Anna Windass Now' campaign.

Phelan framed Anna to get her jailed and he wants her to rot in prison. So, he wants Eileen to shut up - and he's ready to make her do just that!

THIS WEEK The atmosphere on parts of the Street continues to be toxic for Eileen, and she's left gasping more than once...

The first person to knock the wind out of her this week is Alya Nazir, who rented the flat that came with the builder's yard. The deal was done with Phelan, who killed Alya's boyfriend, Luke Britton, and she's still very bitter about that.

Now, though, Alya wants the deposit she put down for the flat back, and she approaches Eileen to demand that she returns her money to her.

Later, Eileen's cabbie colleagues, Steve McDonald and Tim Metcalfe, lure Eileen to Street Cars' office and surprise her with a 'Welcome back' banner and a packet of her favourite biscuits. Hey, they know how spoil a lady... And Eileen is moved by their touching gesture.

But then her day takes a rather scary turn for the worse...

'Eileen starts getting silent calls on her mobile phone,' our Corrie insider reveals.

We've all had them... those dimwits looking for insurance claims, who phone and say nothing, then hang up.

But Eileen doesn't think her calls are about that... and neither do we!

WHAT NEXT?

Are the spooky phone calls Phelan's way of trying to unnerve Eileen? If they are, it works. But if it's Phelan, he won't stop at a bit of mental torture. Change your locks, Eileen, hide your spare key in a different place - and don't go out alone! That's our advice.

Eileen spoke to her sister, Julie Carp, recently. Maybe Julie could return to help keep Eileen safe...

ALI'S LIE EXPOSED!

Liz McDonald discovers a shocking truth about Michelle's moody son...

LIZ DISCOVERS THE TRUTH ABOUT ALI'S RETURN TO WEATHERFIELD...

STORY SO FAR Michelle Connor was shocked when her biological son, Ali Neeson (who had been swapped at birth), suddenly reappeared in February as a trainee GP at the local medical centre. And Michelle was hurt when he insisted to her and to her friends and neighbours that he hadn't returned for her - he wanted nothing to do with her. It was an unlucky coincidence that he had been posted to Weatherfield for his training, Ali said.

Michelle wouldn't give up on her boy, though, not even after he had a fling with her BFF, Carla Connor. But Michelle is in for another shock... or two.

THIS WEEK Following Aidan Connor's death, Michelle feels her wedding to Robert Preston shouldn't go ahead so close to the funeral and she cancels it. But Ali is having none of that!

'Ali tells Robert they could just have a small family wedding and he'll even help organise it,' our Corrie insider tells us.

Robert tells Michelle about their plans for a more intimate version of their wedding and how Ali has been full of ideas.

But how will Michelle react? Will she be thrilled that her son is showing such an interest in her life at last? She should be suspicious... because it's revealed this week that Ali has been telling lies.

'Dr Susan Gaddas lets slip to receptionist Liz McDonald that Ali pushed to secure a placement in Weatherfield,' adds our source.

Puzzled, Liz confronts Ali, wanting to know why he's pretending that he didn't want to be anywhere near Michelle.

We want to know, too! Why the game-playing, Ali? And is this sudden desire for Michelle to go ahead and marry Robert just more games on Ali's part? Is he setting up Michelle for a big, humiliating fall?

WHAT NEXT?

Is Ali's plan to mess up Michelle's big day? Is this where he brings back Ryan Connor (the lad Michelle raised as her son after the baby swap), so he can have a big showdown with them both?

If it is, he may be wasting his time, as we're not sure Michelle's wedding day will ever dawn... Robert's health is not good and that could mean Michelle will never become Mrs Preston.

THE WEEK IN EASTENDERS

Hayley causes a scene when she sells her stuff on the market without a licence...

...but Martin comes to her aid and takes her to the café! Does he want it to lead to more?

Stacey tells Martin how she feels - but then Hayley walks in and ruins everything!

Martin & Stacey REUNITE! Maybe not...

STACEY'S UNHAPPY WHEN MARTIN'S WANTED BY THE WOMEN OF WALFORD... WILL HER PLAN TO WIN HIM BACK SUCCEED AFTER HE LEARNS HE'S BEEN PLAYED BY STACEY, HAYLEY AND KAT?

First with all this week's news on all the big stories!

STORY SO FAR Martin and Stacey Fowler broke up when he found out about her festive bunk-up with old flame Max Branning. They passionately but briefly reconciled (on Dot Branning's kitchen table of all places) when Stacey was grieving for Kat Moon. But when Kat turned out to be very much alive, their romance went nowhere.

Meanwhile, 'Hurricane' Hayley Slater caught Martin's eye - though he still has no idea that she's a Slater - and his ex-wife, Sonia Fowler, is beginning to have feelings for Martin, too.

THIS WEEK Hayley's back in the Square and the one-woman riot immediately stirs up trouble when, down on her luck, she sells some of her belongings on the market, which annoys the rest of the market traders. But Hayley has some good fortune when Martin sticks up for her, then takes her to the café.

'A jealous Stacey is nearby and she's not happy about Martin's knight-in-shining-armor act or that he still seems to be attracted to Hayley,' reveals our inside source at EastEnders. 'So she confides her worries in Kat Moon, who warns Hayley off!'

That doesn't do any good, though. After all, the last time Kat warned Hayley off, she threatened to reveal the truth about what happened to Kat in Spain that brought her back to the Square.

So Stacey has words with Hayley, but Hayley says she doesn't want Martin and has a new boyfriend. Is she telling the truth? As we report on pages 42 and 43, Hayley certainly gets very close to one local!

Elsewhere, Sonia's remembering why she fell for Martin years ago. She suggests to him that they go out the next day, but glum Mr Fowler points out it would have been his and Stacey's anniversary.

'Sonia tries to be supportive,' adds our insider. 'But he considers asking Hayley out instead...'

Events conspire to see Martin ditch the Hayley date idea, shut down Stacey's latest advances and ponder a dinner date with Sonia.

Back at Slater central, Stacey's mum, Jean Walters, gives her daughter a reality check when she admits she still loves Martin, and there's a definite spark when the estranged marrieds get some time alone, and Stacey admits she still loves him.

But then Hayley comes down the stairs and Martin, who's not usually the sharpest knife in this or any other drawer, realises she and Stacey were working together earlier in the year.

Fuming, he takes Sonia out for dinner instead, planning to suggest they try again.

Is it really all over for Martin and Stacey?

KAT'S STILL KEEPING SECRETS!

We still don't know exactly what happened to Kat in Spain to bring her home to Walford, or what she's not telling us about Alfie and the kids. But Hayley does...

And that's why Mrs Moon seems determined to keep her cousin well away from the rest of the family. When Jean suggests Hayley stays with them for a while, Kat's quick to shut the idea down.

What is she afraid of? And what exactly does Hayley know? Kat is pretending she and Alfie are on a break and she's recently seen the kids. But she hasn't...

Just what has happened to split Kat and her beloved family apart? And will Hayley finally reveal the truth?

WHAT NEXT?

Martin and Sonia seem like a good option, but can they rekindle their relationship after so long? Plus, Sonia cheated on Martin, which she seems to have forgotten when she's sticking the knife into Stacey.

We're sure Stacey's the one for Martin. But one thing's for certain. There's going to be heartbreak for somebody...

BAD MAX IS BACK?!

WILL PHIL'S FEUDING SEE THE WANNABE GOOD BRANNING RETURN TO HIS DARK SIDE AND PUT HIS CUSTODY BID IN JEOPARDY?

Will Phil back Max and Rainie into a corner... and will they have to play dirty to escape?

Hoping for a fresh start, Max is using Rainie to help him get custody of his granddaughter...

STORY SO FAR Max Branning's wrongdoings last year may have made him public enemy No.1 in Walford, but he's still come back to the place where pretty much everyone hates him. And the person who loathes him most of all seems to be Phil Mitchell.

Phil was unimpressed when he found out that Max was back, then he was livid when he discovered Max was the new owner of the car lot. Then livid turned to cold rage when Max rejected his big-money offer to get out of town and never come back!

Result: Phil's more determined than ever to bring him down and, after realising there was something very suspect about how Max got the business in the first place, has roped car salesman Robbie Jackson into digging around the office for evidence...

THIS WEEK After confronting Max with a wedge of paperwork, Phil's clearly got something on him. But he's going to need more dirt on Max if he's to bring him down.

'Phil continues to pile the pressure on a reluctant Robbie to get information about Max and his new wife, Rainie,' reveals our EastEnders insider.

But that's a very big ask for Robbie because he'd be betraying his uncle by blabbing. The decision, however, is taken out of his hands.

'Rainie spots Robbie and Phil talking, and she decides she can't trust her new employee any more,' adds our mole. 'So she asks him to hand back his keys for the car lot.'

With Robbie removed from the business, Phil's going to have to think of another way to secure the information he needs to run Max out of town. But since Phil's as dodgy as a nine-bob note, we reckon he won't have too many problems on that score...

WHAT NEXT?

The Max-Phil feud is heating up. Phil is full of dirty tricks and sly schemes, and he's already told his wife, Sharon Mitchell, that he wants his old empire and his old fearsome reputation back.

Despite claiming he wants to do things right so he can get custody of granddaughter Abi, Max is also capable of machinations aplenty. He's already entered a sham marriage to create the facade of being a newlywed with his own business. And it's not like he doesn't have anything on Phil. When Max was on trial for Lucy Beale's murder, Phil bribed a juror.

Could Max revisit his dark side to keep Phil out of his way? And will he involve Rainie, herself no stranger to the shadier side of life, in his schemes?

Something tells us there's only one way this is heading... and it's not good!

But Phil won't back off easily and, with Robbie's help, he's hell-bent on running Max out of town!

Halfway leaves the Square with Whitney... But is it for good and could they be in grave danger?

WHAT'S HALFWAY HIDING?

HALFWAY'S KEEPING SOMETHING SECRET AND HE MAKES A CONFESSION TO STUART AND MICK... BUT WHAT DOES HE REVEAL?

STORY SO FAR An injured Callum 'Halfway' Highway is back from the Army, and he and girlfriend Whitney Carter are enjoying the beginning of their super-cute relationship.

But though he's told everyone what happened, he's acting strangely whenever anyone calls him a hero...

THIS WEEK As we report on the right, Halfway and Mick Carter meet up with Halfway's big brother Stuart. As the other two get drunk, Halfway feels uncomfortable and tells Stuart he's been lying to Mick.

Stuart tells Halfway he should leave The Vic because Mr Carter won't be happy when he finds out. But their conversation is interrupted by Mick, who suggests they all go back to Albert Square.

As the night goes on and the drinks keep flowing, Halfway finally comes clean to Mick.

It seems that whatever Halfway tells Mick has a big effect on his life in Walford.

As the rest of the Square get ready to celebrate the Royal Wedding, Halfway and girlfriend Whitney Carter pack their bags and head to Milton Keynes.

Is this just a family trip to see Bianca Jackson and the brood? If they don't return, could it be because of what Halfway revealed to Mick?

WHAT NEXT?

Has Halfway got mixed up in something dodgy again? He's been involved in an armed robbery before... Is it related to the way he saved The Vic with a stolen ring? Do Aidan or Ciara Maguire want some payback? And could he and Whitney be in serious danger?

Linda's furious to discover Mick in bed with Hayley after a drunken night out - and she blames Stuart!

Mick's BLAST from the MICK'S REUNITED WITH HALFWAY'S

STORY SO FAR Caring Mick Carter arranged for Callum 'Halfway' Highway's brother, Stuart, to pay a surprise visit. But Highway's older sibling, who's also one of Mick's friends, never showed.

When he did eventually arrive, it was obvious that he wasn't as nice as he seemed. He's got issues with Halfway, too, and his banter isn't exactly funny...

THIS WEEK Mick and Halfway decide to surprise Stuart at one of his old haunts, and the two childhood friends start to knock back the booze as they reminisce while Halfway looks on. As Mick and Stuart get drunk, just as they did when they were younger, things get out of hand.

'Being sensible for once, Mick suggests they head back to The Vic,' reveals our insider at EastEnders. 'And it's back in Walford that Stuart bumps into Hayley Slater, and he suggests she joins them as the night falls into a drunken shambles...'

And, as we report on pages 42-43, that shambles nearly ends in a broken marriage when Stuart convinces a smashed Hayley to snuggle up with a near-

PAST!

BROTHER AND HIS OLD PAL, STUART!
BUT LINDA'S NOT HAPPY...

catatonic Mr Carter to get him in trouble when his wife comes back! What?!

Next day, Linda's furious to find Mick in bed with Hayley. As a hungover Mick explains what must have happened, Linda blames Stuart. She obviously knows a bad penny when she sees one.

'An angry Linda slings Hayley out of the pub and she tells Mick she wants Stuart gone,' says our source. 'Mick tries to talk to Stuart about the incident, but he soon puts two and two together and he realises Stuart set him up.'

But why? And is this the end of their friendship?

WHAT NEXT?

Stuart is well and truly in Linda and Mick's bad books - and matters gets even worse when he breaks her favourite mug.

But despite Linda's very clear instructions for him to get lost, it looks like this new character will be sticking around in Albert Square for a little while longer.

But why is he so desperate to cause trouble between Mick and Linda? Does he secretly have the hots for Mrs C? Or is there some other agenda going on and could the truth be something much more sinister?

Stuart doesn't do much to help his case when he then smashes Linda's favourite mug...

Linda has clearly recognised Stuart as the shady character he is... But what does he want?

TROUBLE for Shakil!

THE SWEET TEEN'S BEEN KEEPING HIMSELF TO HIMSELF OF LATE, BUT TROUBLE'S LURKING AROUND THE CORNER...

STORY SO FAR Shakil Kazemi has been keeping himself out of trouble recently. Not that he's ever been the kind of kid to cause too much aggro for his crystal-loving mum, Carmel Kazemi...

He's had his moments, though. The biggest bother he's got himself into was when he sent photos of his private parts to his then-girlfriend Bex Fowler. When Louise Mitchell found out, it wasn't long before the pics were doing the rounds at Walford High. Apart from that, Shakil's been a good boy, really...

NEXT WEEK Shakil and his mate, Keegan Baker, want to impress some girls they've met, so they plan to hook up with them at the flat of Shak's brother, Kush Kazemi. Eagle-eyed Carmel, however, is one step ahead of them and she turns up at the flat!

'It's embarrassment city as the girls leave, then Carmel receives a call from Shakil's teacher, who wants to meet them,' reveals our source at EastEnders.

'Carmel immediately thinks her Shakil is in trouble. But she's pleasantly surprised when his teacher reveals he has a friend who runs a summer school for students with a talent for creating electronic music... And as Shakil is one such student, he thinks he should apply for it!'

When Shakil decides it's not for him, though, an angry Carmel blames Keegan for putting off her son. Then it's actually Keegan who talks his mate into applying!

WHAT NEXT?

Is Shakil heading off for a summer of merry music-making? We very much doubt it as we know Enders is doing a dramatic knife-crime storyline and we hear Shakil actor Shaheen Jafargholi is soon to be leaving the soap...

As we report on page 41, photos of Enders filming what we're told is Shakil's funeral were recently posted online and there's word Shakil will be killed when he is stabbed in a horrific knife attack.

Carmel has it out with Keegan's mum Karen after Shakil is put off summer school...

Keegan and Shakil try to win round Kush to let them use his flat to entertain some girls...

Carmel's keen for her son to go to the summer school, but will it lead him into this dangerous situation? If it does, she may come to regret pushing him into it...

THE WEEK IN EMMERDALE

STORY SO FAR Doug Potts is a well-meaning, if sometimes overbearing, bloke. Even his lady friend, Diane Sugden, enjoys spending time away from him. Teenagers love to torment him and older villagers tolerate him, some better than others.

Laurel Thomas, his daughter, and her family, love him - and not just because they're supposed to.

He's a bit of a know-it-all, is Doug - he can't help it. But we fear his know-all ways are about to lead to more than irritation as another village tragedy looms...

THIS WEEK Doug fancies having a crack at some building repairs at the B&B, even though he's told no. And we think he's going to regret getting handy...

It's Diane and Eric Pollard who actually own the B&B, but Doug has always been very vocal - and sometimes even helpful - with his ideas on how it should be run, his contributions offered as Diane's protective romantic partner, you understand...

So when Diane spots a crack above the door at the B&B, Doug decides he can fix it, even though he's not a builder. That's why Diane tells Doug to call in the professionals. But he doesn't. He attacks the damaged lintel, sure he's being safe. But does he even realise that the lintel is what is supporting the big, heavy wall above the door?

All we're saying is that it looks like an accident waiting to happen... and the next thing that does happen is a terrible tragedy that kills someone!

WHAT NEXT?

Does DIY Doug bring down the B&B on top of himself or his young sidekick, Gerry Roberts? With Gerry having heard the voicemail implicating Lachlan White in the death of Chrissie and Lawrence White, it would be convenient for Lachlan if Gerry died.

Or does Doug kill someone else?

That's what we fear - and (see right) here's who we think may be making a sudden, sad exit.

➔ Check it out! Read our exclusive interview with Doug actor Duncan Preston on page 53

Diane looks worried when Doug gets out his tools to fix a crack above the door of the B&B...

TRAGEDY!

Who DIES in Emmerdale?

DOES DOUG CAUSE A FATAL ACCIDENT IN THE VILLAGE?

First with all this week's news on all the big stories!

THE HIT LIST...

DIANE SUGDEN

Diane's a much-loved part of the village as Bernice Blackstock's mum, Gabby Thomas' grandmother, Victoria Sugden's stepmother and friend to just about everyone who lives there. She would have every reason to be in the B&B as it's her business, so if Doug does cause it to collapse, he could end up killing the woman he loves! Could he live with that?

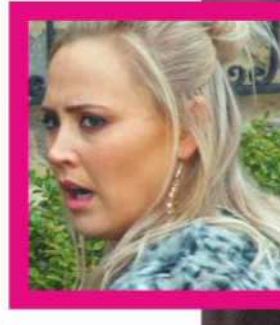

ERIC POLLARD

Ah, now if the B&B were to collapse on top of Pollard, Doug wouldn't be quite so devastated. They rarely see eye to eye and Pollard tolerates Doug because he's attached to Diane. But, still, if Doug were to accidentally kill Pollard, he would be upset - and then he would probably blame Pollard for not spotting the crack and getting it fixed himself!

TRACY METCALFE

It's a terrible thought, but Tracy is spending a lot more time at the B&B, helping out Pollard, who is like a father to her. He stood by her when his own son, Tracy's husband David, couldn't support her during the nasty exposé of her past life as a prostitute. Pollard loves Tracy like a daughter and, if he lost her, his heart would break.

BELLE DINGLE

Belle and Lachlan White, her boyfriend/co-creator of Whingles Ginger Ale, have some bar business in the B&B. Could the voices schizophrenic Belle sometimes hears convince her to interfere with the building work Doug is doing? Those voices have caused Belle to be destructive in the past... What if Belle ends up doing something that destroys her completely?

LACHLAN WHITE

As things stand, twisted Lachlan has convinced his aunt, Rebecca White, that she caused the terrible car accident that killed his mother and grandfather and left her brain-damaged. But if Gerry now knows the truth... Well, there could be a scuffle that brings down a wall - and brings down Lachlan! And if Lachlan dies, Rebecca may never know the truth... and that really would be a tragedy!

DNA RESULT

for DAZ... and

IT'S A MOMENT OF TRUTH FOR DAZ AND DAN WHEN THE DNA TEST RESULTS ARRIVE!

The writing on this single sheet of paper could blow the brothers apart for ever!

STORY SO FAR Kerry Wyatt is the only person who knows that Daz Spencer slept with his brother Dan's wife, Ali Spencer. It only happened once, but that could have been enough to make him Amelia Spencer's father!

Daz confessed everything to Kerry when Ali died.

'Dan doesn't have to find out,' Daz insisted at the time. 'I can keep it to myself.'

And he was going to leave the village. But Kerry decided that they'd get a DNA test done and decide what to do next if the results showed Daz is Amelia's daddy.

That's a big secret to keep, especially for Kerry. Amelia is a little girl who they all love, so why smash her world apart if they don't have to?

THIS WEEK The DNA results have arrived and promptly go missing! And, to make matters worse, Daz's girlfriend, Bernice Blackstock, is starting to get suspicious about all the whispered conversations between him and Kerry. Oh, what a mess they're in!

Their main mission is to find the missing letter before Dan can get his hands on it.

Can they do that? Well, no...

Desperate Daz tries to apologise to his brother for everything, but Dan is more focused on the DNA results. He's terrified they'll prove he's not Amelia's father, but he's not going to show it.

'Dan pretends he doesn't care and throws the unread letter in the bin,' reveals our

Emmerdale insider. 'But he doesn't leave it there...'

Later on, he retrieves the results from the bin - and then all hell breaks loose!

'The brothers are at war and Dan tells Daz to pack his bags and leave,' adds our source.

'But in the middle of their fight, Amelia appears and wants to know what's wrong.'

What is wrong? Is Dan angry because Daz slept with Ali? Or is he angry because he's found out the little girl he's raised is not really his daughter?

DAN!

Bernice is suspicious of Daz and Kerry... If only she knew the truth!

WHAT NEXT?

We know someone in the village dies this week and our first hunch is that it's something to do with Doug Potter's dodgy DIY (see pages 20-21).

But our second hunch is that Dan doesn't like what the DNA results say and he goes ballistic and kills Daz! He'd go to prison for that - then what would Amelia do? It's unlikely she'd stay around. Could this be the end of the Spencer family in the village?

Check it out! Don't miss our exclusive interview with Dan actor Liam Fox on page 54

Laurel's sweet affair with Bob has turned sour and she wonders if it was all worth it...

Laurel all ALONE!

LAUREL IS FEELING VERY UNLOVED... WHAT WILL SHE DO?

STORY SO FAR

Bob Hope and Brenda Walker's farcical wedding is the talk of the village - and Laurel Thomas is the centrepiece of the chat....

Bob and Laurel humiliated Brenda with their sneaky affair and she showed them that revenge is a dish best served publicly, for maximum effect.

Now Laurel has to deal with the fallout...

THIS WEEK Laurel discovers that Brenda isn't the only woman she's hurt...

Her best friends, Nicola King and Bernice Blackstock, are unhappy because Laurel never confided in them about her affair. How could she keep such a juicy morsel of news from them?! Well, to be fair to Laurel (as fair as you can be to a woman who sleeps with another woman's man), it was a secret and neither Nicola nor Bernice are good at holding their tongues...

Then Laurel has to face the children. Her son, Arthur, already knew the horrible truth, having overheard Laurel and Bob talking about their cheating ways. But her stepdaughter, Gabby Thomas, is in for a shock. How will Gabby feel about Laurel - the widow of Gabby's father, Ashley, the village vicar - being involved in such a scandal?

WHAT NEXT?

Could Gabby's reaction lead to yet more trouble for Laurel?

Or could alcoholic Laurel get herself into more trouble by falling off the wagon?

Can Misty (below) ensure that Paddy and Chas have a happy future?

'We're CURSED!'

SAYS PADDY

AND PADDY'S RELATIONSHIP WITH CHAS COULD BE ON THE ROAD TO HEARTBREAK...

STORY SO FAR Pub owner Chas Dingle and vet Paddy Kirk have bounced their way along a very bumpy Romance Road and they're now having a baby, living together and are planning to marry.

Yes, Chas has been very sick through her pregnancy, but it's definitely not Paddy who's turning her stomach. The couple are full of joy and everyone else - even Paddy's 'bromantic' buddy Marlon Dingle - is happy for them.

So, their future is bright, right?

THIS WEEK Paddy is a worrier by nature. So, although Chas and their baby are everything he wants and they're having an engagement party in The Woolpack, he can't believe it will last for ever... and he's not the only one worried.

'Chas and Paddy had a bit of a thing before she went to Ireland last year with Liv Flaherty, but they called it quits because they thought they were plagued by some weird Dingle curse,' Chas actress Lucy Pargeter says.

And that's clearly still on their minds. They talk about their wedding but they say they won't let superstition get in their way. Still, Marlon tells Rodney Blackstock about their fears of a curse and that becomes another cue for Rodney's free-spirited lover, Misty Allbright, to work some of her magic...

Misty isn't only a sex therapist (and a good one, eh, Jimmy King?). She has what she needs to perform a 'cleansing' in the pub to rid Chas and Paddy of any curse.

'But it's soon clear there's a catch,' our Emmerdale insider reveals.

Of course there is! And later, while Chas and Paddy's engagement party is in full swing, disaster strikes elsewhere in the village - and Chas' son, Aaron, is missing.

WHAT NEXT?

We don't think the tragedy that hits the village (see pages 20 & 21) and Aaron's disappearance are linked. But we do fear for the happy couple's future...

Chas told Rhona Goskirk that her baby is due in October - and bad things happen in Emmerdale around that time of year, such as Emma Barton dying last October after killing her husband in October 2016.

We don't want to curse Chas and Paddy. All we're saying is that the omens aren't good and maybe Chas should go somewhere else to have her baby!

Ross presses Moira for more information on his attacker's whereabouts...

MOIRA tells ROSS EVERYTHING?!

WILL MOIRA DECIDE TO REVEAL ALL AFTER ROSS AND CAIN FIGHT?

STORY SO FAR Ross Barton was devastated when his attacker, Simon McManus, walked free from court - and then he recognised him.

'He's Holly Barton's drug dealer,' Ross told his brother Pete. 'Me and Adam roughed him up a bit. I know where he lives, so I can finish this myself.'

But Simon very quickly disappeared, his departure financed by the £100,000 that Joe Tate paid him not to tell Ross he was a victim of mistaken identity.

'I used to grab life by the throat,' Ross told Pete. 'Now I don't do anything. I don't even know who I am any more.'

But he does know he wants Simon to pay for scarring him for life.

THIS WEEK Ross' angry search for Simon continues. He hits one brick wall after another, but it's clear he's not going to give up any time soon. And he's convinced his auntie Moira, mother of dead drug addict Holly, can help him find Simon, as she used to meet him to score drugs for her daughter.

Moira knows the whole truth about what happened to Ross, though... How Debbie Dingle paid Simon to 'mess up' Joe, how Simon got the wrong person and how he was never supposed to use acid.

Cain Dingle knows everything, too, and he doesn't want Ross pushing Moira, who has kept Debbie's guilty secret. So far...

'Cain tries to warn Ross off asking Moira more questions and things get heated,' our Emmerdale insider reveals.

Cain and Ross get into a bit of pushing and shoving and the facial conformer Ross wears over his burns takes a hit.

Ross cries out in agony and a worried Moira comes running when she hears, wanting to know exactly what's going on between the men. What will she say when she finds out?

WHAT NEXT?

'I'm a Dingle now,' Moira promised Cain, which means she'll keep the family secret. But we're sure Ross will find out eventually - and when the bombshell hits, it will blow apart his whole world...

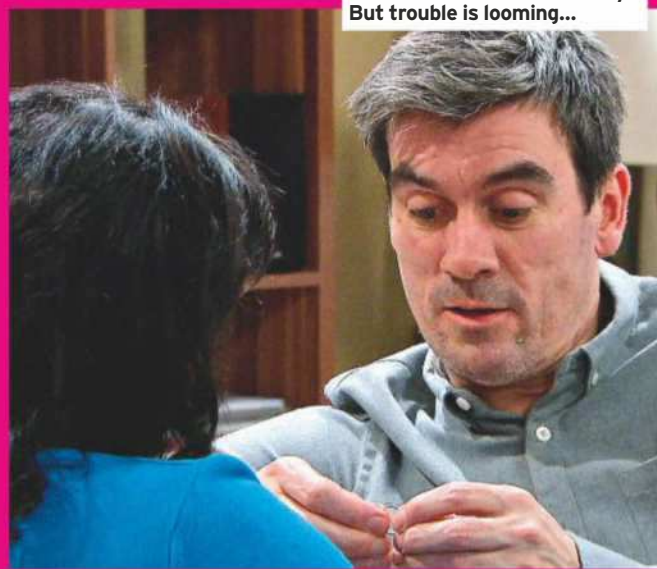

Cain isn't happy and he comes to blows with Ross, hurting his scarred face!

Moira and Cain are properly reunited on their anniversary! But trouble is looming...

CAIN PUTS A RING ON IT... AGAIN!

CAIN AND MOIRA'S LOVE STORY TURNS ANOTHER PAGE...

STORY SO FAR Many women have come and gone in Cain Dingle's life, but only Moira Dingle became his wife.

Then Cain let her down badly over her drug addict daughter, Holly. Moira felt Cain had turned his back on Holly so she turned him away and demanded a divorce.

But they never stopped loving one another and Cain's mum, Faith Dingle, saw that. She pushed and pushed and, finally, they fell into each other's arms.

'For better or worse, that's the deal,' Moira told Cain when they reunited.

Meaning she became the keeper of his secrets, including the one about Cain's daughter, Debbie Dingle, causing Moira's nephew, Ross Barton, so much pain...

THIS WEEK Cain and Moira unite as Ross asks more awkward questions about his attacker (see page 25).

Cain believes Moira really will help him to protect Debbie and he decides to show her exactly how much that means to him.

Four years ago this week, on 15 May, Cain and Moira got married, so Cain asks Faith to babysit Isaac as he's planning a special surprise for Moira.

The fact that he's planning anything at all will be a big shock to Moira! So what does the improved, more romantic Cain have in mind for his wife?

All Faith is sure of is that she wants Moira to be prepared, so she reminds her that it's her and Cain's anniversary.

And it's a very sweet moment when this hopelessly, helplessly devoted couple celebrate and exchange rings again.

WHAT NEXT?

Many said 'Coira' would never last. But look at them now! Still, this is Emmerdale, where the closest thing to a happy, stable marriage is Nicola and Jimmy King...

And there's trouble brewing with a frustrated Ross that we fear Cain and Moira won't be able to avoid for ever...

THE WEEK IN HOLLYOAKS

STORY SO FAR Troubled teenager Alfie Nightingale has battled cancer, watched his girlfriend, Jade Albright, die, grieved for his brother and discovered his sister tried to kill their dad.

That's quite a lot of emotional agony for any teenager to take. Not surprisingly, everything's taken its toll on the sensitive swot and he's struggling to cope.

His manic behaviour saw him get obsessed with building a Jade robot, become convinced an asteroid was heading for the village, and pick up a random woman for sex in a bar... and all as a creepy voice in his head messes with his mind.

As the voice gets even more sinister, will anyone notice Alfie's out of control?

THIS WEEK So far, Alfie's managed to keep the extent of his mental health troubles to himself. But that changes when he starts responding out loud to the voice that only he can hear, arousing Tom Cunningham's suspicions.

The lads head to a bar and Alfie acts intense when someone catches his eye.

'Janine, who Alfie slept with a few weeks back, comes into the bar,' reveals our Hollyoaks insider. 'Then Alfie admits to an alarmed Tom that he was arrested for having sex with her!

'But his alarm then turns to utter disbelief as Alfie makes a grand gesture towards Janine...'

Our photos show Alfie getting down on one knee and offering Janine flowers.

He's not popping the question, is he?!

WHAT NEXT?

There's a wedding on the horizon for angst-ridden Alfie. We know that from February's flashforward. Will he persuade Janine he should make an honest woman of her following their hook-up?

But can Janine be trusted? Is she just preying on vulnerable Alfie - and is she even really there? He's already hearing voices that aren't real, what if he starts hallucinating, too?

Alfie will eventually be diagnosed with schizoaffective disorder as the storyline explores the hot topic of mental health. But with no one around him realising how unwell Mr Nightingale is, can he get the professional and emotional support he needs to cope with his condition?

And if it's not Janine he's marrying at the future-wedding in the folly, who else could it be?

Alfie gets down on one knee and offers Janine flowers - but is that all?

TIME'S UP for Sienna!

SHE RECKONS SHE'S UNMASKED HER
STALKER... BUT HAS SHE GOT THE WRONG END OF THE STICK?

Sienna's on the edge as she makes a mental list of her potential tormentors...

STORY SO FAR Prank phone calls, intruders, teddy bears with creepy messages... Sienna Blake has been the target of a terrifying campaign from someone with a grudge against her.

Seeing how she's caused chaos for half the village with her own sly schemes of deceit over the years, whittling down the stalker suspects is almost impossible!

Ms Blake's tormentor has emailed a countdown clock, though, and it's been ticking for weeks. But what is it counting down to? We're about to find out...

THIS WEEK Having lost ex-lover Joel Dexter when she admitted she faked cancer, and he went back to true love Cleo McQueen, Sienna strikes a lonely figure as she and baby Sebastian go for a walk - unaware the stalker is watching them.

Stressed Sienna is a woman on the edge and, as time runs out on the clock, she's desperate to expose her nemesis.

'Sienna creates a list of potential suspects,' whispers our Hollyoaks insider. 'She convinces herself Darren Osborne is the one stalking her! Then the clock hits zero and there's a knock at the door...'

Are Sienna's suspicions correct?

WHAT NEXT?

We can't see Dazzle being the stalker. The pair have got beef, but that's all water under the bridge by now.

Ex-hubby Ben Bradley's son, Josh, pops up again this week. Could he have been bluffing and is he after revenge for Sienna's daughter, Nico, killing his sister, Carly?

There are thousands of theories as to who the stalker is, but our fave is it being Ms Blake's buff brother, Dodger Savage!

Who doesn't want to see dishy Danny Mac back in Hollyoaks?!

With Sienna's flashforward funeral looming (this really could be the end!), even if he's not the stalker, maybe he'll be back to mourn his twisted twin sister...

THE WEEK IN NEIGHBOURS

As Aaron proposes, David reveals that he was going to ask the same question!

First with all this week's news on all the big stories!

Aaron & David's

GRAND PROPOSAL!

ARE DAVID AND AARON ABOUT TO MAKE NEIGHBOURS HISTORY WITH THE FIRST RAMSAY STREET GAY WEDDING?

STORY SO FAR David Tanaka and Aaron Brennan have had a turbulent relationship to say the least. Aaron was David's first romance after coming out as gay, before things turned sour when Aaron's manipulative ex, Rory Zemirow, turned up and wormed his way between them.

Then Brit Rafael Humphreys stole David's heart, only for him to learn Raf had come to Erinsborough as he had a huge vendetta against Paul Robinson, who also happens to be David's dad. Awkward!

But 'Daaron' fans rejoiced when the pair were reunited recently, and it seems the loved-up couple are about to make Neighbours history...

THIS WEEK David and Aaron decide to spend some quality time together and organise a day at the beach. But once they arrive, it all turns a little clumsy when both of the men are secretly planning to propose, and neither has any idea!

'As Aaron gets down on one knee, his impromptu proposal goes slightly awry,' explains our Neighbours source. 'And nothing can hide his shock when David then reveals he was planning to pop the question, too!'

Both David and Aaron are thrilled they're finally going to tie the knot, and there's love in the sea air as the pair celebrate their double proposal.

The newly engaged couple can't wait to share their exciting news and they head back to Ramsay Street to tell their friends and families. But, as talk turns to their upcoming wedding, it seems the two grooms aren't quite on the same page...

WHAT NEXT?

Mark Brennan asks the pair when the wedding will be and Aaron's desperate to make their romance official by booking their nuptials as soon as possible. But it seems David feels differently, and he wants to take things slowly and enjoy the engagement for a while.

Could their difference in opinion mean the wedding is doomed already? Or will the happy couple come to a compromise and organise Ramsay Street's first gay wedding?

Karl is rushed to hospital and Susan's distraught to be told he may not survive...

Susan's FINAL FAREWELL to Karl?

SUSAN'S HEARTBROKEN WHEN KARL'S HEROIC ACT LEAVES HIM IN GRAVE DANGER... WILL HE PULL THROUGH?

Xanthe finds Karl with a badly broken leg... Can she get him help before he worsens?

STORY SO FAR After getting lost in the bush during a school camping trip, Susan Kennedy and Kirsha Rebecchi were forced to spend the night out in the elements while they waited for someone to come and rescue them.

But while the search team worked all hours, little did they know that Karl Kennedy had launched his own rescue party - determined to bring his wife home safe and sound.

However, unfortunately for Karl, his recently discovered blood clot left him seriously unwell and he collapsed in the bush all alone.

THIS WEEK There's relief all round when Susan and Kirsha are found. But as soon as they're rescued, it becomes apparent

Karl's also missing... and the doctor's in a bad way. He's collapsed thanks to his deep vein thrombosis and now he has a broken leg to go with it.

As his health deteriorates, it's a race against time for someone to find him before it's too late.

Thankfully, wannabe nurse Xanthe Canning locates Karl, and she manages to reset his broken leg so they can find a clearing where the rescue helicopter can see them.

'But as the pair stumble into an opening, Karl falls unconscious,' explains our Ramsay Street insider. 'Xanthe has no option but to start CPR and hope the helicopter arrives soon.'

Karl is rescued in the nick of time and he's rushed to hospital. But Susan's devastated when doctor David Tanaka reveals that Karl needs an emergency operation and he might not pull through.

WHAT NEXT?

Susan's confronted with the reality she might not see Karl again, but the thought of a life without her husband is too much. Could this be the end of the legendary Ramsay Street doctor?

Despite their ups and downs over the years, the Kennedys are devoted to each other. If Karl doesn't pull through, how will Susan cope without him?

ROBBO'S COURT CASE GETS THROWN OUT WHEN A HUGE SECRET FROM HIS PAST IS FINALLY REVEALED...

First with all this week's news on all the big stories!

Robbo!

STORY SO FAR After months of having no memory of who he was, Robbo's past finally came flooding back to him as he remembered he was actually notorious hit man Beckett Reid - Summer Bay's most wanted villain.

And, as his court case looms, it seems the reformed killer is about to be handed a one-way ticket to jail...

THIS WEEK As the day of Robbo's trial arrives, everyone's surprised to see Martin 'Ash' Ashford outside court, apparently keeping his promise to Tori Morgan that he'll provide a testimony for his former enemy.

'Things get off to a bad start when the prosecutor paints Robbo as a cold-hearted killer,' reveals our Summer Bay insider. 'Then things get even worse when Ash double-crosses Robbo and testifies for the prosecution and not the defence as he promised.'

In the stand, Ash's words about Robbo couldn't be more damaging and, when Justin Morgan can't give evidence because his daughter, Ava Gilbert, has gone missing, Robbo's left with no one fighting his corner.

Taking a gamble, Robbo decides to testify on his own behalf. His lawyer, Kurt, is totally against the idea, but it seems to work when his speech goes down surprisingly well and it isn't long before the jury have made their decision.

Ash takes the stand, but he has a surprise up his sleeve...

As the court waits nervously on the verdict, everyone's stunned when armed federal agents storm in, take custody of Robbo, and whisk him away!

WHAT NEXT?

Tori and Kurt are speechless as officers tell them to forget Robbo ever existed. With no idea about where Robbo has been taken, they ask Colby Thorne to do some digging.

But when a strange man arrives at the police station to remove all files on Robbo, the mystery deepens...

What's in store for Robbo as he's taken away by the feds?

ROBBO'S BIG SECRET!

While everyone's wondering what's happened to Robbo, he's being taken to a mysterious federal-police warehouse to be interrogated. Officers trigger Robbo's memory by talking about his past and eventually he remembers... he used to be a government agent! What?!

Apparently his name is Ryan Shaw and he went undercover as Beckett Reid to track down the people who killed his family. But despite being thrilled that he's not the killer he thought he was, Robbo can't help but wonder what it means for his future.

Will he head back to the Bay?

Justin gets into a scuffle with Dean when he accuses the River Boy of taking his daughter Ava!

AVA GETS KIDNAPPED!

STORY SO FAR

Justin Morgan was shocked when his ex, Nina Gilbert, arrived on his doorstep, asking him to look after their daughter, Ava Gilbert. This situation was made even more awkward by the fact Justin's girlfriend, Willow Harris, had no idea he was even a dad!

THIS WEEK

As the trio have a family dinner at Salt, they're oblivious to the fact someone's watching them... and things turn sinister when Justin discovers that Ava's missing the next morning.

Willow's quick to reassure Justin that Ava's disappeared like this before. But Justin can't shake the feeling that there's more to her vanishing than meets the eye.

'When the police get involved, Justin's alarmed when Colby Thorne asks if anyone might have a vendetta against the family,' reveals our Summer Bay source.

'Justin remembers his cross words with Dean Thompson and he confronts the River Boy, which leads to a scuffle.

'Colby takes them both back to the police station, but Dean's adamant he's innocent and he surprises everyone by joining in the search for Ava!'

JUSTIN'S WORST NIGHTMARE BECOMES A REALITY WHEN AVA GOES MISSING! BUT WHO'S TAKEN HIS DAUGHTER?

Ava's still missing the next morning. But as the family gets desperate for news, a note turns up demanding $25,000 for Ava's return. She's been kidnapped!

Meanwhile, as the police search for Ava intensifies, Jasmine Delaney catches Colby looking through an old police file on someone called Bella Nixon.

Colby's fuming when Jasmine asks questions. But eventually he reveals Bella's his sister who went missing years ago, and the reason he became a police officer was so he could find her one day.

WHAT NEXT?

As concern for Ava's safety escalates, Justin's desperate for answers. But while he's panicking, it seems that his daughter's far away from Summer Bay, with a mysterious old woman...

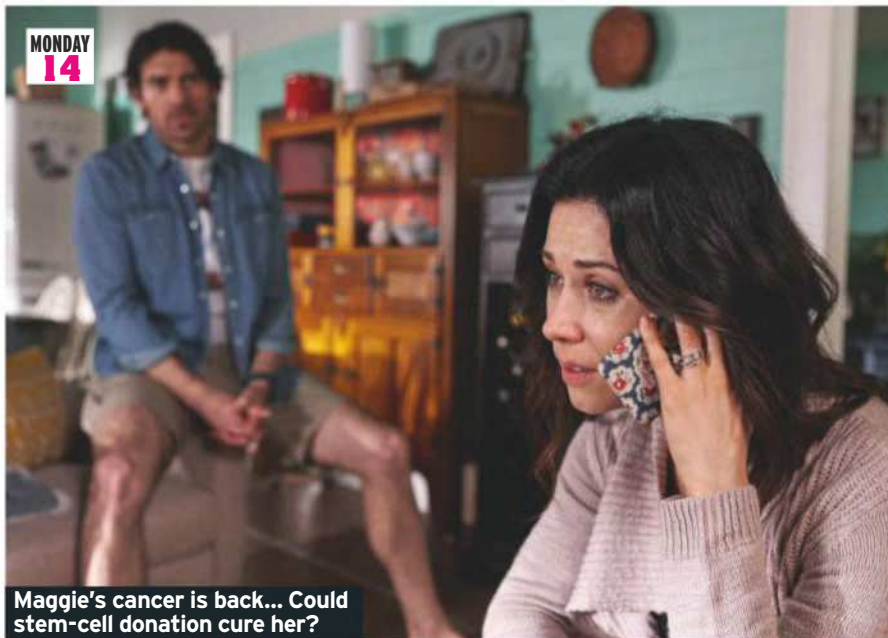

But who is she? And is Ava safe?

Court! There's drama in court as Ash testifies against his foe, Robbo, at his trial, and Justin is called as a witness for the defence, prompting Robbo to do a runner. Justin panics when Ava goes missing. Alf and Martha open up about their past.

Wednesday 16 May

Swoop! Robbo returns to court but before the jury can give their verdict, federal agents swoop into court and take Robbo away... Ava's in the charge of a mysterious older woman as the search for her continues. Maggie worries when donor Ziggy falls ill.

Thursday 17 May

Fear! Justin fears the worst when Ava's belongings are found by the roadside. Ash is unable to let go of his anger, despite Colby's warning to forget Robbo. Ava's disappearance brings up old ghosts for Colby, who distracts himself by bedding Jasmine... But what's he hiding?

Friday 18 May

Memory! Robbo's memory returns while under interrogation - he's federal agent Ryan Shaw, who assumed the identity Beckett Reid while undercover... The Morgans receive a ransom demand for Ava. Colby reveals his torment to Jasmine.

Are Kush Kazemi and Keegan Baker (inset) having to say goodbye to Kush's brother?

SPOILER ALERT!

EastEnders

KNIFE CRIME VICTIM SHAKIL DEAD?

Reports suggest the young Kazemi teen will be the tragic victim of knife crime...

Our spies recently spotted members of the EastEnders cast filming funeral scenes, which we're told happen after schoolboy Shakil Kazemi is stabbed and left for dead following a knife attack.

Enders announced they'd be airing a storyline tackling the hot topic of youth gangs and knife crime in March this year, and sources suggested there would be at least one fatality. And with actor Zack Morris, who plays other potential victim Keegan Baker, spotted among the mourners, we're guessing the omens aren't good for Shakil.

Also spotted among the mourners and interacting with Kush Kazemi were two new characters. Sources suggest these are Shakil's absent dad, Umar, and his brother Darius, who arrive to bury the teenager.

EMMERDALE AIRS CHARITY FLASHBACK EPISODE!

Charity's past will be explored in a flashback special that tackles the subject of child abuse...

The one-hour special will chronicle the life of a young Charity Dingle, who'll be played by actress Mica Proctor, and viewers will witness the pain, heartbreak and confusion she felt as a young girl.

'It's such a brilliant opportunity for me to explore Charity's past,' says Emma Atkins, who plays the present-day version of the character. 'It's stuff that's been locked away for years, very painful stuff, and she finally feels able to talk about it.'

Thanks to girlfriend Vanessa Woodfield, Charity's been able to face her dark past.

'Charity is a character with a massively complicated, fascinating and heartbreaking history - some of which has previously only been alluded to on screen,' adds outgoing Emmerdale producer Iain MacLeod.

'We wanted to do one of our signature, stylised episodes to fill in the blanks and explore the devastating, formative experiences she went through as a vulnerable teenager - adding in a massive surprise for viewers in the process.'

Catch all the drama when the episode airs on Tuesday 29 May on ITV.

1 Once Mick's fast asleep, Stuart bribes broke Hayley to stay the night with him...

2 Mick is baffled when he wakes up in the morning with Hayley beside him!

MICK'S SHOCK WAKE-UP CALL!

Not long ago, Linda Carter feared hubby Mick had designs on their daughter-in-law, Whitney Carter. But she put those doubts behind her and the Carter marriage got back on track. It could be dramatically derailed this week, however, when Linda returns from visiting her mum to find her fella in bed with Hayley Slater. So is Mick doing the dirty and playing away with a moody little sort? No, the guilty party is actually Halfway's older brother and Mick's old pal, Stuart Highway, who thought it would be jokes to pay down-on-her-luck Hayley to clamber into the sack with a drunken and asleep Mick, so he'd be in trouble with his missus the following morning. Linda susses what's going on and slings Hayley out of the pub. She then tells Mick she wants Stuart gone! But it seems she may not get her wish... What's Stuart's game? We're guessing it's not Happy Families...

Tyrone Dobbs makes his mark this week on the garage business that he shares with Kevin Webster. As you can see, Tyrone's promotional skills stretch (really stretch) to a high-rise, inflated dancing man with Webster's Autos emblazoned on its body. Kev isn't exactly bowled over by Ty's advertising campaign, but he can't deny it's eye-catching! But something else - or rather, someone else - has caught Kev's eye too. Mechanic Abi Franklin wants a job at the garage and Kevin is impressed during her interview. She's already humiliated Tyrone once, though, and he's not keen for that to happen again. Something could well happen to change Ty's mind, though...

SOBERING TIME FOR AARON & LIV!

Lots of people needed a drink after the outrageous injustice of Liv Flaherty being locked up for the foolish prank she played with Gabby Thomas, while Gabby walked free. But Liv is way too young to be on the booze and she's drinking way too much at the moment. This week, her behaviour leads to her half-brother, Aaron Dingle, getting a phone call and he has a sit-down with Liv at the young offenders institution, where she was sent for four months. Liv has a drinking problem and they finally talk about it. But will speaking to Aaron be enough to sober up 16-year-old Liv and make her realise that she's washing away her future with every swig of booze? Or will she drown her sorrows again after Aaron leaves, with prison-made hooch that could kill her?

THIS WEEK WE TALK TO...

Robert's

NEW

His addictive personality continues to get the better of him, says Tristan Gemmill...

Robert Preston promised his fiancée Michelle Connor he would stop taking steroids. But it seems his addictive personality is taking over once more.

So... he's back on the drugs? 'No, but he's become addicted to the punishing exercise regime he was doing while he was on them and may be pushing his body too hard,' actor Tristan Gemmill tells SoapLife. There's no 'maybe' about it!

Why did Robert feel the need to start taking steroids in the first place?

After his testicular cancer surgery, Robert's confidence was knocked big time. His way of dealing with it and being cancer free was to start exercising and getting super-fit. But while doing this, he stumbled across the wrong kind of people in the gym and he started using steroids to enhance his workout regime.

But Robert starts encountering some further health problems, doesn't he?

Yes. Having an addictive personality, he's become addicted to intense exercise. There's also an element of vanity about being in such great shape for a man of his age. He's doing the same workout programme he was following while on steroids - but without the assistance of the drugs. He's pushing himself too hard and he starts having chest pains.

But the prospect of losing Michelle made him stop...

Absolutely! Michelle is everything to Robert and that helps me play him. He's been a bit of a wanderer in the past, but this is the most solid relationship he's had and he's desperate to hold on to it and not mess up.

Do they still hope to get married?

They're still planning their wedding, yes. It's a sign of new beginnings and Robert's keen to mark that.

Is Robert worried about his health?

He doesn't let it stop him from carrying on. If he is scared and worried, he's not letting on. He doesn't tell Michelle either. That would be far too sensible! But due to the steroids, he's become addicted to a certain level of exercise and his body just can't cope with the strain.

Sounds like he needs a wake-up call...

Probably. He's not going to admit to what he sees as any sign of weakness that would lead him to have to ease back - that's not his strong point.

Does Robert's addictive personality mean he could substitute the gym with something else?

As long as he doesn't see it as dangerous to his health or to his and Michelle's safety. Maybe a sudoku puzzle or chess addiction, perhaps, but that's not quite as dramatically interesting!

ADDICTION!

He's the spontaneous sort, is Aaron Brennan. So when he's overcome with love while spending a blissful day at the beach with boyfriend David Tanaka, he decides to ask David to marry him! But David's immediate response isn't exactly the one Aaron's hoping for. 'David blurts out "No, no, no!" and Aaron wonders if David's actually rejecting the proposal or even hinting that he doesn't want to be with him at all,' actor Matt Wilson tells Soaplife. But Aaron's worst fears are allayed when David reveals that he's planning to propose, too!

We take it Aaron's proposal isn't very long in the planning, then!

No. It's a completely spur-of-the-moment thing - in true Aaron style. David's protests do worry him for an instant - until David reveals it's because he's been planning to propose for a while. So, it's like a joint proposal really. It's a really cute scene.

Is marriage the next step for 'Daaron'?

Absolutely. They've come through so much, but their relationship is in the best place it's ever been now they're back together.

What sort of reaction do they get to the proposal from family and friends?

Everyone's thrilled and very excited. The only person who's not obviously overjoyed is Mark Brennan. He thinks his brother may regret rushing into things so quickly, but that's just Mark being Mark.

Will there be a big wedding?

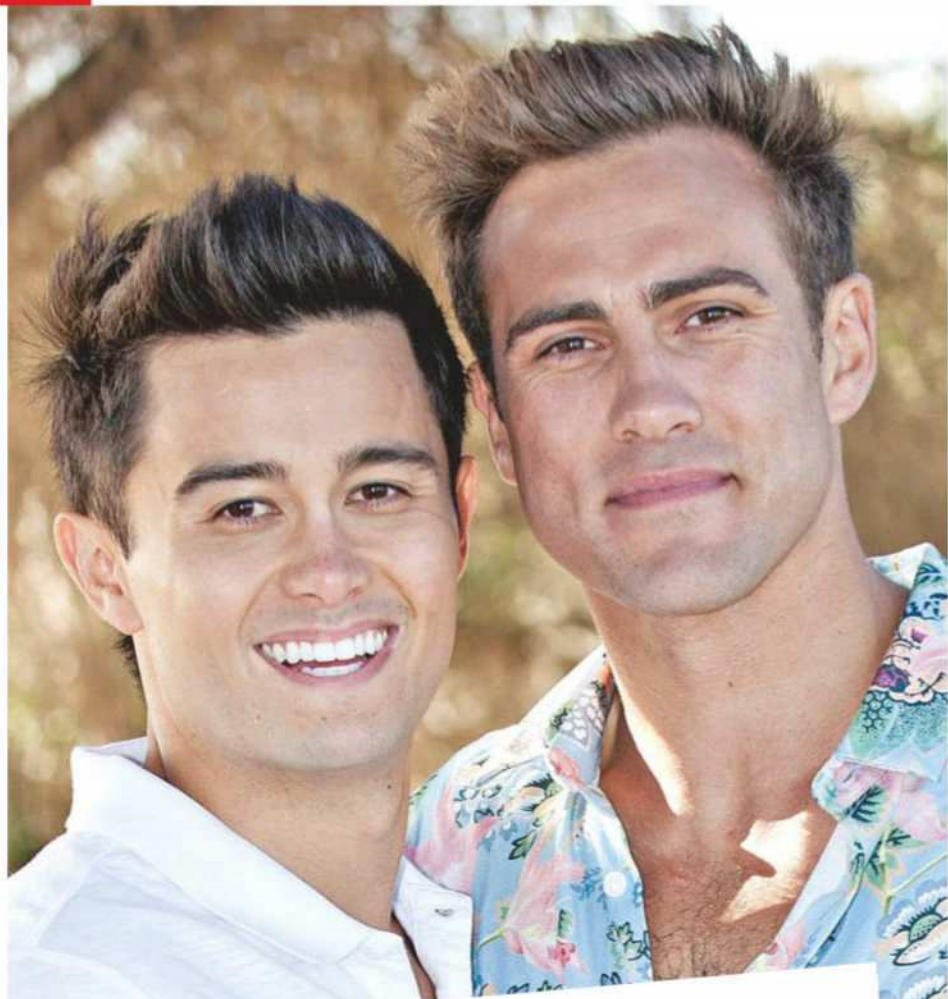

If Aaron has his way, it will be the biggest wedding Ramsay Street's ever seen. He wants the 'works' - and soon! Typically, David is rather more guarded. He'd prefer to wait a while and to have a smaller affair that's less lavish and expensive.

Who'll win the planning battle?

Aaron will if he's got anything to do with it. He definitely has the potential to turn into the biggest 'groomzilla!' But Aaron's going to have to sweet talk David into accepting his ideas - as well as stumping up some money - and make it seem like it's all David's idea!

Is it important that this will be Australian TV's first ever gay wedding?

Of course. The same-sex marriage act was only passed here at the end of last year and it's fantastic that Neighbours will be the first show to dramatise a gay wedding - that's if it actually happens! There are bound to be some ups and downs - this is Erinsborough after all! There was a time when I thought Aaron and David would never get back together, and I was getting tired of the 'Will they? Won't they?' stuff.

Aaron

POPS THE QUESTION!

Aaron's in for a shock when he decides to ask David to marry him, reveals Matt Wilson...

Doug creates DANGER!

DOUG'S RELATIONSHIP WITH DIANE IS ALREADY STRAINED. NOW HE COULD BREAK IT, LITERALLY, DUNCAN PRESTON TELLS US...

Q&A

When a crack appears above the door at the B&B, the ever-helpful Doug Potts decides to patch it up himself. 'They do get a quote, but it's expensive,' actor Duncan Preston tells Soaplife. 'So Doug rolls up his sleeves. But, with the best will in the world, he isn't a builder...'

What's the problem with the door?

Well, Doug thinks it's something that can be sorted with a bit of Polyfilla. But, in truth, plaster is coming away from the lintel, which is cracked. Now, the lintel is supporting the weight of the wall above the door, so, structurally, this isn't something Doug should be messing with. Any builder worth their salt would know that. But Doug blunders on blindly, not realising the danger he's putting himself and everyone else in.

What happens when he tries to fix it?

Let's just say that his work has catastrophic consequences. He's likely to live to regret it.

How are things between him and his partner, Diane Sugden, prior to this DIY disaster?

Well, things are a bit strained between them because he feels that she doesn't love him in the same way she did Jack Sugden. I'd say they're just about tolerating each other at the moment. That's tough for him because he wants more - he loves her.

Would he like to marry Diane?

Absolutely! That would be the perfect scenario as far as he's concerned. She has got to want to get married and be in love, too, though. He'd hate it if she accepted his proposal because it's what Doug wants.

What's it like for him working at the B&B with her while they're in a relationship?

They're not the dream team he'd hoped they would be. He's so busy worrying about himself and concentrating on his own worries, he doesn't consider others enough.

And his daughter, Laurel Thomas, is a worry for him with her tumultuous life...

Yes. She had a drink problem and this whole affair with Bob Hope is a big drama. Now that the truth has come out, Laurel feels the whole village is against her. It's difficult for Doug to see her in that predicament. Naturally, he just wants to see his daughter happy and settled.

SHOCK for Dan!

LIAM FOX TELLS US HOW DAN REACTS WHEN HE FINDS OUT DAZ SLEPT WITH ALI, AND A DNA TEST COULD SHOW DAZ IS IN FACT AMELIA'S FATHER!

Q&A

It's truth time when Daz Spencer and Kerry Wyatt find the DNA letter that will tell them who Amelia's biological father is. And poor Dan, Daz's brother, is terrified! 'He is conflicted,' Dan actor Liam Fox tells Soaplife. 'No matter what the results are, he will always see himself as Amelia's father.' So, will the real daddy step forward?

How is Dan feeling in the wake of his ex-wife Ali's death?

He's devastated, but the main focus of his sorrow has been Amelia. He's really trying to protect her. She has a religious aspect to her character that Dan finds a bit bizarre, but it does help at times like this.

Did Dan know that Ali slept with Daz?

No, he didn't know. He finds out this week and the news comes as a shock.

How does Dan feel when he finds out?

It's a tough one for him. Imagine finding out after all these years that your kid may not be yours. In the long run, he believes he'll always share a strong bond with Amelia. But, even so, he's dreading learning the results of this DNA paternity test.

Is that why he throws the letter containing the results in the bin?

It's like anything in life, sometimes you don't want to hear bad news. It's a natural instinct that a lot of blokes have. He's very much 50/50. He doesn't know what to do. Part of him wants to get rid of the letter and forget all about it, but he also wants to know the results of the test.

How will he deal with the news if Amelia is really Daz's daughter?

I think there would be a bit of a journey for him. It would be how Amelia deals with it that would determine how they'd relate as father and daughter in the future.

Is Dan angry with Daz?

At this point in time, he hates him. They've always had a love/hate relationship and it's not a complete surprise to Dan that Daz slept with Ali. Daz can be as nice as pie one minute and snide the next.

Can the brothers get over this hurdle?

At the moment, Dan feels there is no coming back for him. He wants Daz out of his life for ever. Years ago, Daz tried it on with Kerry. But they got over that, so who knows which way it will go... They are two sides of the same shirt really. Daz is a shady character who can be lovely, and Dan is a bob-along character who can also be nasty.

Would Dan tell Amelia if it turns out that he is not her dad?

He wouldn't want to, but he'd realise it would be the right thing to do because she'd probably find out one day anyway.

If Daz is the father, would Dan want him to be a part of Amelia's life?

No, but Amelia's needs come first. She's lost a mother and there's a chance that she'll find out that somebody else is her real dad. She could lose her mind!

Zeedan gets the WRONG PICTURE!

Zeedan loses his head over Rana, as Qasim Akhtar reveals...

Q&A

Love really is blind so far as Zeedan Nazir is concerned. Wife Rana's with Kate Connor but she's still caring towards Zeedan, so he's convinced himself that he can win her back. 'In his heart, he definitely feels that there's a chance of them being a proper couple again and he's prepared to do whatever it takes to achieve this,' actor Qasim Akhtar tells SoapLife. It'll all end in tears, we fear...

Is Zeedan's idea of living happily ever after with Rana unrealistic?

It definitely is if they stay in Weatherfield. He has this dream of them moving away, starting a new life and having a family. He so wants a 'happy ever after' because of what life has thrown at him - losing both of his parents and then, in a different way, losing his wife. Zeedan can't handle it.

Is Zeedan encouraged when Rana offers to help out at Speed Daal?

He tells himself it's a sign - even if, deep down, he knows it's not. His grandma tells him he needs to move on, but he finds this very hypocritical when she is technically still married to Sharif. Yasmeen takes this on board and she decides to get a divorce.

What happens when a reporter comes to Speed Daal to interview Zeedan and Rana about the business?

Zeedan makes out that they're a loving couple. This makes Rana feel really uncomfortable and she almost tells the reporter that Zeedan's faking it, but she manages to keep it to herself. She walks out, leaving Zeedan feeling very awkward.

Is this what pushes Zeedan to try and prove there's something going on between Sophie Webster and Kate?

Yes, it is. Zeedan sees Sophie comforting Kate and he decides that this could be the solution to persuading Rana to leave Kate and return to him. He starts taking pictures of them together, but his plan backfires because Rana sees him.

We know you're leaving the Street. Why did you decide to go?

I said I'd only do three years and I've done four. I've always been really ambitious and I still have that fire in my belly where I want to pursue other projects. I'll miss everyone so much, though.

WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE? KEEP UP WITH ALL THE GOSS!

Sam, Andy and Alan got to grips with the bikes at the Harley-Davidson showroom...

BORN TO BE WILD! OR MILD?

The newly opened Harley-Davidson showroom in Old Trafford, Manchester, got a visit from three familiar faces recently. Actors Sam Aston, Andy Whyment and Alan Halsall, who play Chesney Brown, Kirk Sutherland and Tyrone Dobbs in Corrie, popped in to the dealership to admire a variety of bikes from the world-famous brand. Our spies tell us that Sam already has his own Harley and Alan may even be tempted to follow suit! We hope the bikes have good suspension if they plan to motor over the famous Weatherfield cobbles!

NOW & THEN!

OUR ROUND-UP OF FORMER SOAP ACTORS APPEARING ON THE SMALL SCREEN AND BEYOND...

MARTIN KEMP

Martin will be heading back to Neverland this Christmas in a tour of hit production Peter Pan. The former EastEnders star, who played Albert Square bad man Steve Owen, will return to the even more villainous role of Captain Hook with his new co-star Milton Jones. Last year's spectacular - that played in London and Birmingham - was such a massive hit that the huge cast of actors and circus performers, the 10,000-gallon water wall and the giant crocodile will now tour arenas in Belfast, Leeds and Manchester. Peter Pan kicks off in Belfast on 14 December.

THEN Who didn't love to hate Mel's hubby and EastEnders hard man, Steve Owen?

NOW Steve looks no less terrifying in his new role of Captain Hook in Peter Pan

NOW Susie guest stars as tearoom owner Gemma in an episode of Midsomer Murders

THEN Bev Unwin had a fling with barman Ciaran McCarthy during her time in Corrie!

SUSIE BLAKE Former Corrie star Susie returns to the box as a guest star in an episode of long-running detective drama Midsomer Murders. Susie plays tearoom owner Gemma Christie, who gets mixed up in the grisly death of a young woman, stabbed in the woods after slipping away from a Jane Austen weekend. The actress was last seen on the cobbles as Bev Unwin in 2015, when she returned to Weatherfield to break the news to a devastated Ken Barlow that his wife, Deirdre Barlow, had passed away while visiting her.

We hear you're starring in the new Sky Arts comedy-drama series, Urban Myths...

Yes. I'm in an episode exploring crime-writing legend Agatha Christie's 11-day disappearance in 1926. The story gripped the nation and other famous crime writers of the time, such as Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and Dorothy L Sayers, were drafted in to help the search for her.

Who do you play?

I play Agatha's husband, Archie Christie. He's a bit of a cad, which is what attracted me to the role, to be honest. He's Colonel Archie and he has a military background. But, of course, he's having an affair at the time.

So he's a total scoundrel.

Yes! He's very duplicitous, but he really doesn't care and everything is done with a smile on his face. He's got an easy charm and he doesn't have any regrets about what he's doing. He's a great character to play.

So he's not fussed that Agatha's gone missing and he might be suspected of killing her?

No, not really. He's more concerned about getting the divorce papers signed. He's heartless! That's his main thing: to get the divorce papers signed and get 50 per cent of everything she's got, then live happily ever after with a younger woman!

Why do you think this period of Christie's life is so fascinating?

To run away from your husband for 11 days was quite a brave thing to do in that period. But Christie was a woman who was way ahead of her time. She was the breadwinner in the marriage and she was really powerful in the male-dominated world of books.

Why do you think she ran away?

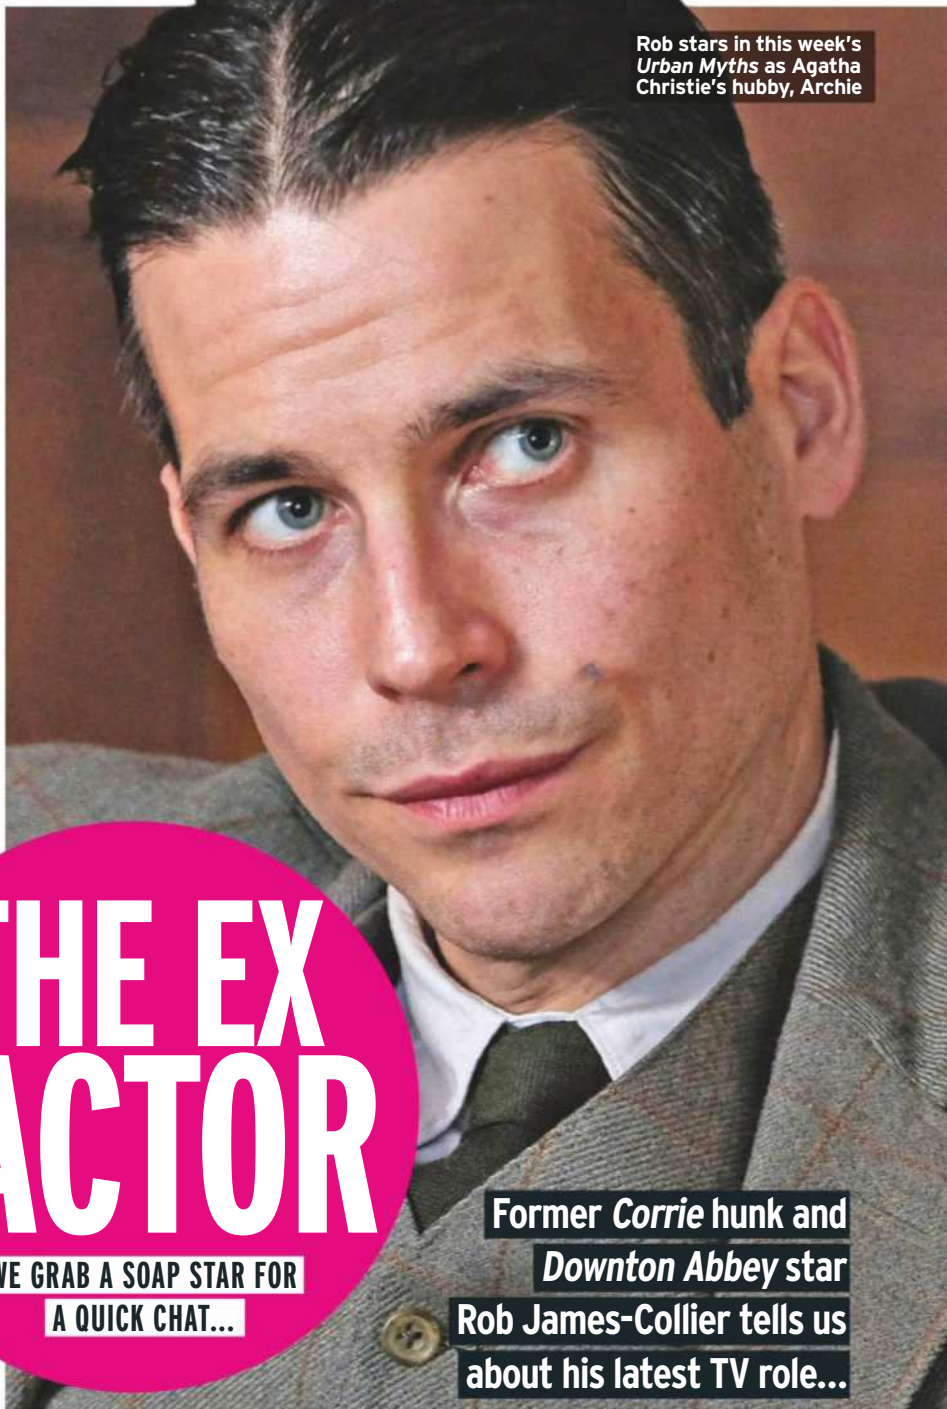

We suggest she ran away to force Archie to follow her so she could make him realise that he really did love her.

Have you enjoyed going back to the 1920s after Downton Abbey?

Oh yes. It's always nice to get dressed up in period clothing, particularly the finer robes of the upper classes. The cast is fantastic, too, so to be part of this ensemble was another thing that attracted me.

What else have you got coming up?

At the minute, there's a film I'm attached to but I'm not allowed to say as I'll get sued and all that. The Downton movie is also hopefully going out next year and there's a couple of projects of my own that I'm trying to get off the ground.

Rob stars in this week's Urban Myths as Agatha Christie's hubby, Archie

THE EX FACTOR

WE GRAB A SOAP STAR FOR A QUICK CHAT...

Former Corrie hunk and Downton Abbey star Rob James-Collier tells us about his latest TV role...

Rob as Colonel Archie, with Celeste Dodwell, who plays Nancy Neele

Rob and his former Corrie co-star, Alison King, as Liam and Carla

'IT'S THE HARDEST THING I'VE EVER HAD TO DO!'

EastEnders hunk Danny Walters tells us about his gruelling Rat Race challenge and why getting fit changed his life...

TYING DOWN DANNY WALTERS FOR a chat is not easy. Right now, the hunky actor, who plays Keanu Taylor in EastEnders, is preparing for the truly arduous Rat Race: Dirty Weekend, which takes place in the grounds of Burghley House, Stamford, Lincolnshire, on 11-13 May. Consequently, he's out training at every possible opportunity. 'It's tough,' he tells SoapLife. 'Previously I've conquered Adidas Thunder Run 24, Tough Mudder and Rough Runner. Rat Race is the hardest event I've signed up for, though - it's a 20-mile run, interspersed with 200 obstacles! Say no more!' But we want to hear lots more, Danny...

Never mind the run, what obstacles are we talking about here?

Monkey bars, wading through mud, swimming across a lake, zip wires, crawling under netting, clambering over haystacks, balancing logs on your shoulder... There's a real variety. It could be anything and it ranges from easy things to really hard obstacles. The organisers like to mix it up quite a lot. I like the prospect of that, too. It's exciting not knowing quite what to expect and what we're going to have to tackle.

Are you taking part in the event on behalf of a charity?

Yes, I'm doing it for Children with Cancer UK. I came across the organisation when I was looking at the Rat Race website because Children with Cancer UK is affiliated with the event. I read about some of the kids suffering from and living with this terrible disease, and I was really upset by it. I wanted to do something to help raise awareness of the charity and the amazing work they do for kids, and to raise some funds, too.

THE
INTERVIEW

Picking up the Best Newcomer award at the NTAs this year!

Danny as Keanu in EastEnders, with on-screen mum Karen and siblings Keegan and Bernadette

Danny starred in three series of ITV's Benidorm as stropky troublemaker Tiger Dyke

THE SOAPLIFE INTERVIEW

Why do you like events like this?

I like to challenge myself - to push myself more and more each time I do something. I'm a very physical and active kind of guy. Doing it for Children with Cancer UK gives it an added dimension, though. It gives me real motivation and purpose.

So, what's your training regime like?

It's tough. I've been training for a long time and almost every day - sometimes twice a day. I do bodybuilding and I go on long runs. Training isn't really that specific because we don't know exactly which obstacles will be there on the day. I also make sure I eat the right nutrients to support what I'm doing. My personal trainer, Harry Smith, has helped me out loads with my training and nutrition.

What kind of food do you eat when you're in training mode?

I eat a macronutrient diet, which means I count the amount of carbs, fats and proteins I eat and adjust my calorie intake accordingly. It's about maintaining my weight and I eat a lot to achieve that - energy bars, protein bars, chicken and rice... and lots of ice-cream!

You must be very fit!

I am now. I certainly wasn't when I was about 15 or 16. In fact, I weighed 16 stone! I knew I had to change something about myself and I discovered fitness. It changed my life - and not just physically. Being fit gives me a real sense of well-being and it makes me feel mentally strong.

Do you have a time frame that you want to complete Rat Race in?

That's a tricky one as I don't know quite what to expect with regards to the obstacles. I'm running with five other guys, including my trainer, Harry, and we've discussed how long it might take. We reckon it should be around six hours. Running a straight 20 miles wouldn't take as long, but it wouldn't be nearly so much fun! I'm really looking forward to getting to Stamford. I know there's going to be a great buzz on the day and good vibes, and we'll all be motivating each other. Nothing's going to stop me or get in my way, I'm going to smash the course and do it in the best time I possibly can - for the fantastic cause I'm doing it for.

You've had just the best year in EastEnders, haven't you?

I couldn't have hoped for better and winning Best Newcomer at the National Television Awards in January was just incredible. I feel so fortunate and so honoured and I'll never take it for granted. I didn't become an actor for the fame or to win an award, though. It's all about the acting for me. That's all I care about.

So are you still enjoying playing Keanu Taylor in the soap?

I'm loving it. He's a really fun character to play and he's got so many different dimensions to him. I think there's still a lot to discover about Keanu.

Are you anything like him?

I think there are always going to be elements of yourself in any character you play. His dodgy dress sense definitely isn't me, though! When I'm not in my gym or running gear, I like to wear suits.

DRAMA

PATRICK MELROSE

NEW SERIES

Sunday, 9pm Sky Atlantic

In this new five-part drama, Sherlock star Benedict Cumberbatch takes the lead as the witty, wealthy and well-bred Patrick Melrose. Sounds like he's a catch, doesn't he?

He's actually a womaniser who's taken every drug under the sun to distract him from the horrors of his childhood. Now his drug of choice is heroin. So, not such a catch after all!

When we first meet him, he receives the news that his father has died in New York, so Patrick decides to travel there to collect the ashes. He also makes a pact with himself to get sober while he's there. But that's easier said than done...

As with Trainspotting - albeit in an upmarket setting - the horrors of addiction are starkly portrayed in this gripping and darkly comic tale.

It'll take more than a hot bath for Patrick to clean up his act...

Graham Norton gives his take on tonight's show...

MUSIC

EUROVISION

8pm BBC1

SuRie (inset) is a talented musician, a very cool artist and has a great song to boot, but can she do the impossible and give the UK a long-awaited sixth Eurovision victory? We do hope so!

We'll be keeping everything crossed for her when we tune in to the annual song contest, which, this year, is in the Portuguese capital Lisbon.

There are 26 countries, including the UK and Australia - don't ask - so it's going to be a long night. Just be grateful for last week's semi-finals. Without them, we'd be watching all 43 countries perform in one go!

As usual, Graham Norton will be in the commentary box to give his take on proceedings, which will no doubt have plenty of bonkers moments...

ENTERTAINMENT

BRITAIN'S GOT TALENT

8pm ITV

With such impressive talent on offer this series, we wish the judges - and Ant and Dec - had been given more than the one Golden Buzzer each!

We're still in bits over Marc Spelmann's heartfelt magic act and don't get us started on the singing duo, dad Tim and his 12-year-old son, Jack!

As more acts try to impress Alesha Dixon and co, will any of tonight's performers get a Golden Buzzer and the 'confetti blizzard' and pass to the live semi-finals that comes with it?

Who'll win over judge Alesha Dixon tonight?

FILM

EURO-VISION

From 6.30am Sky Select

The award for this week's most tenuous link goes to Sky Select.

Tonight is Eurovision, which features lots of songs, so the channel is showing a collection of hit musicals featuring lots of songs. But as most of the films hail from the US, it doesn't have anything to do with Europe or Eurovision at all!

But that doesn't matter. We love a musical and things kick off at 6.30am (!) with Chitty Chitty Bang Bang and continue with Annie, South Pacific, West Side Story and The King and I before winding down with Hello, Dolly! at 6.30pm.

COMEDY

THE KEITH & PADDY PICTURE SHOW

9.30pm ITV

When Terminator 2: Judgment Day came out in 1991, it was the biggest film of the year and critics hailed it as one of the great action films. Will Keith and Paddy do it justice?

The original used groundbreaking CGI, so don't expect any of that here!

What you can expect is 1980s pop star Rick Astley as the shapeshifting T-1000 cyborg and Jaime Winstone as teen hero John Connor!

Keith may not have the physique of Arnold Schwarzenegger, but how do his acting skills compare? You can find out soon after the skit has finished because the real Terminator 2 follows the news at 10.05pm.

Keith and Paddy attempt to recreate a sci-fi classic

The sun will come out tomorrow for the cast of 1982 musical Annie

HARRY HILL'S ALIEN FUN CAPSULE

7.30pm ITV

After Cannon and Ball's recent appearance in ITV's Last Laugh in Vegas, we hoped to see more of the comedy duo. So we're glad that they're helping Harry Hill fill his fun capsule tonight!

Tommy (Cannon) and Bobby (Ball) will be joined by Professor Robert Winston, TV presenter Anita Rani and actress Gaynor Faye, better known as Megan Macey in Emmerdale.

By the way, it's not Cannon and Ball here in the picture, it's Harry and Robert taking the what-not out of the pair!

It's Winston and Hill, not Cannon and Ball!

Eurovision

BBC1, 8.00pm Coverage of the event staged in Lisbon, which was won last year by Portugal's Salvador Sobral.

The Keith & Paddy Picture Show

ITV, 9.20pm The comedy duo are joined by Jaime Winstone (left) for this parody of Hollywood hit Terminator 2.

It's a big year for Miss Minogue...

PROFILE

KYLIE AT 50: ESPECIALLY FOR YOU

9pm Channel 5

Not only does Kylie Minogue turn 50 this month, but this year marks 30 years since her first UK hit, I Should Be So Lucky.

This one-off celebration takes a look at the Australian singer's amazing career, from her early days as Charlene Mitchell in Neighbours right up to her current album, the Nashville-inspired Golden.

The documentary also covers Kylie's love life, her battle with breast cancer and how a pair of gold hotpants helped her to chart success in the early noughties!

As usual with this sort of thing, there's lots of archive footage and contributions from fans and friends of the pop princess.

AWARDS

BAFTA TV AWARDS

8pm BBC1

Sue Perkins is your host as Line of Duty, Black Mirror, The Crown and Three Girls lead the nominations in this year's TV gongs show.

Our fingers will be tightly crossed for former Corrie actress Julie Hesmondhalgh, who's been nominated in the Supporting Actress category for her role as rape victim Trish Winterman in Broadchurch.

There are some surprising snubs - nothing for Strictly, Bake Off, EastEnders or Doctor Foster - and we never thought we'd see the day Love Island would be up for a BAFTA!

The winner of the Must See Moment award, decided by your votes, will also be revealed.

Will Julie Hesmondhalgh win an award for her role as Trish in Broadchurch?

BAKE OFF: THE PROFESSIONALS

8pm C4

We'd forgotten how brutal judge Cherish Finden can be. Ironically, for someone in her profession, she doesn't sugar-coat her devastating putdowns!

Tonight, Fussy Pants Finden has some of the bakers in tears when she deems their elaborate creations 'unacceptable' and bluntly criticises them.

After tackling a tricky roulade challenge, the bakers must make a croquebouche. Now, we can barely say it, let alone make it! So even if Cherish isn't impressed with the bakers' efforts, we are!

Cherish doesn't mince her words

US COMEDY

ATLANTA

10pm BBC2

This US comedy has already won two Emmy Awards and two Golden Globes and starts tonight with a double-bill of the first two episodes.

It stars Donald Glover as university dropout Earnest 'Earn' Marks, who's broke and living with his ex-girlfriend and their daughter.

When he discovers that his cousin, Alfred, is on the verge of rap success under the name of Paper Boi, Earn spots an opportunity for them both. All he needs to do is convince the rising star that he's perfectly suited to be his manager...

MUST SEE TV MONDAY

Lee Ingleby as David and Hermione Norris as Alice

DRAMA

INNOCENT

NEW SERIES

9pm ITV

We loved Lee Ingleby in Line of Duty and we love Hermione Norris as Cold Feet's Karen, so we love the fact that they're starring in this powerful thriller. And, as usual, they're on top form.

Lee plays father-of-two David Collins, who's suddenly acquitted of killing his wife, Tara, after spending seven years in prison. Hermione plays his sister-in-law, Alice, who's distraught at the verdict and is scared that David will take back his children, who she's been bringing up.

But as the investigation is re-opened and new inquiries are made into what happened on the night Tara died, shocking secrets are revealed...

The drama continues nightly until Thursday.

DOCUMENTARY

HEART TRANSPLANT: A CHANCE TO LIVE

9pm BBC2

Every morning 200 British people wake up and wonder if it will be the day when they finally get the heart transplant that could save their lives.

This powerful documentary goes behind the scenes at the Freeman Hospital in Newcastle to follow a long process that relies on bereaved families donating their loved one's organs.

As well as meeting patients and surgeons, the film looks at the experimental technology that could change the entire field of organ transplantation.

Surgeons perform life-saving surgery

DOCUMENTARY

CATCHING A KILLER: A KNOCK AT THE DOOR

9pm C4

On 31 January 2017, restaurant owner Hang Yin Leung, 64, was violently attacked as burglars robbed her Milton Keynes home.

The thieves fled from the scene, laughing, with the family's savings and jewellery. But worse was to come the next day.

As Hang gave her witness statement to the police, she fell ill and was rushed to A&E.

When she died, it meant the crime became a murder inquiry.

This fascinating documentary, filmed over the course of a year, follows the police investigation.

GAME SHOW

HARDBALL

NEW SERIES

4.30pm BBC1

Ore Oduba hosts this quiz show, which feels like a friendlier version of The Weakest Link. The former Strictly winner is far too nice to unnerve the players like TWL's Anne Robinson, so the hardball of the title does it for him.

Six contestants take it in turns to answer general knowledge questions, with each correct answer earning cash and moving them along a row of squares on a grid. When they reach the sixth square, a ball is released and it starts to roll along a track.

Wrong answers and hesitation cost time, and if the ball catches up with them on the grid it's game over.

All the cash goes into a jackpot and one lucky winner takes it all!

You won't see Ore playing hardball in this quiz show

The detectives try to solve the murder

DRAMA

HARRY & MEGHAN: A ROYAL ROMANCE

9pm Lifetime

Here's something a bit different from all the documentaries that are being shown in the run-up to Prince Harry and Meghan Markle's wedding day on 19 May.

Lifetime's contribution is this made-for-TV film, which stars Murray Fraser (from ITV drama The Loch) as Harry and Parisa Fitz-Henley (from Marvel series Jessica Jones) as Meghan.

With a liberal dash of fiction, the drama follows the couple from their first date right up until Harry popped the question to former Suits star Meghan.

Harry and Meghan's story is told through the medium of drama

Coronation Street

ITV, 7.30pm Kevin isn't convinced when Tyrone proudly unveils a huge dancing-man advert at the garage.

EastEnders

BBC1, 8.00pm Hayley returns to Albert Square and immediately stirs up trouble for Kat and the Slaters.

How can we stop the pangolin from becoming extinct?

WILDLIFE

PANGOLINS: THE WORLD'S MOST WANTED ANIMAL

8pm BBC2

Here's a truly extraordinary film about the little-known but utterly adorable pangolin, the world's only truly scaly mammal.

Sadly, this shy and secretive creature is also the most trafficked animal in the world. Its scales are used in traditional Asian medicine and its meat is eaten.

This film follows conservationist Maria Diekmann, who's made it her life's mission to save the pangolin from extinction. She travels from Namibia, Africa, to Vietnam, Thailand and China to meet other people who are desperate to save this amazing creature and raise awareness of its plight.

Narrated by David Attenborough. Natch.

BULLETPROOF

9pm Sky One

With high-octane car chases and gun battles on the streets of London, this action-packed cop show might contain just about every cliché in the book, but it does make entertaining fare.

The opener of this eight-part series follows NCA officers Ronnie Pike (Noel Clarke) and Aaron Bishop (Ashley Walters) as they pursue car thieves.

Apparently the show was inspired by US cop movie Bad Boys, but fans of the Lethal Weapon series shown on ITV will also be at home amid the flying bullets and screeching tyres.

NEW SERIES

Ashley Walters and Noel Clarke as maverick cops Bishop and Pike...

DRAMA

THE SPLIT

9pm BBC1

Hannah (Nicola Walker) takes on one of the biggest cases of her life when she handles the divorce of a key political figure.

A website for people seeking affairs has been hacked and a client list is due to be leaked online at 7am the next day.

Bill Graham, husband of foreign secretary Emma Graham, is on the list - and now she wants a divorce!

Elsewhere, Nina drops a bombshell about Nathan (Stephen Mangan) that could ruin Hannah's life...

Is Nathan about to ruin Hannah's life?

DOCUMENTARY

THE SECRET LIFE OF 5 YEAR OLDS

8pm C4

What happens when you give power to a five-year-old? That's what the experts are putting to the test in the last episode of this two-part series tonight.

When two five-year-olds judge a dance competition, will they show kindness and empathy for the funky moves of their contemporaries?

Meanwhile, teachers Kate and Simon give out a silver star, and whoever wears it is the boss. When they give the title to confident Iris, she uses it to her full advantage...

THE WINDSORS ROYAL WEDDING SPECIAL

9pm C4

We'll be able to watch Harry and Meghan tie the knot when their big day finally rolls around. But, sadly, we'll never get to see what's going on behind the scenes as the royal family prepares for the main event.

This cheeky special of C4's spoof show imagines what Harry, Meghan and co will be doing in the run-up to the wedding. It may be a bit close to the bone, but it's very, very funny!

In this completely fictional version of events, Meghan wants Harry to have a low-key stag do in the US, but he has other ideas - cue strippers and Jägerbombs with his mates!

Harry and Meghan tie the knot at last!

How will the children cope with being bossed around?

MANCHESTER BOMB: OUR STORY

10.45pm (regions vary) BBC1

On 22 May 2017, a suicide attack at Manchester Arena claimed the lives of 22 people and injured more than 100 following a concert by US singer Ariana Grande.

This powerful documentary - which was first shown on BBC1 on Sunday - meets some of the survivors, who are all girls aged between 11 and 20. It follows them over six months as they attempt to rebuild their lives.

Among the girls are Louise, 20, who's struggling to deal with the death of her brother, Martyn, who was killed in the attack.

Heather chooses her fave fella... But is it Callum?

REAL LIFE

LOVE IN THE COUNTRYSIDE

9pm BBC2

It's a case of sorting the wheat from the chaff in matters of the heart for rural romantics Pete, Christine and Heather.

Cheerful dairy farmer Pete, 52, has to choose between Helen and Caroline. Once the decision's made, he leaves his natural habitat to visit his new girlfriend at her home...

Meanwhile, equine vet Heather, 26, has a clear favourite between Callum, Mark and Kamil. And Christine goes fishing with Joe and Josh,, where one of them catches her eye, leaving the other poor fella feeling like a spare part!

DOCUMENTARY

WILLIAM AND HARRY: BROTHERS IN ARMS

10pm Really

In the run-up to their wedding, this week's all about Meghan and Harry, but this one-off is all about William and Harry.

It looks at major events in the princes' lives, including the death of their mother, Princess Diana, and shows the brothers as a united duo as they grew up in the spotlight.

With contributions from royal correspondents and - surprise, surprise - Diana's former butler, Paul Burrell, the doc is a very pleasant trip down memory lane on this very royal week.

DOCUMENTARY

THE SECRET LIFE OF THE ZOO

8pm C4

Becoming a parent for the first time can be a shock whatever your species, but Kiara is finding it especially challenging.

The spider monkey isn't showing any maternal instinct - she's more interested in playing than taking care of her baby, which seems to be getting weaker.

There's also trouble in the naked mole-rat enclosure. A power struggle between two sisters to be the new queen is putting the whole colony at risk.

Meanwhile, keepers are hoping that a pregnant Capybara (the world's largest rodent) will have lots of babies, while a type of pig called a babirusa is also hoping to make his family bigger.

COMEDY

JON RICHARDSON: ULTIMATE WORRIER

10pm Dave

As the title of this comedy chat show suggests, comedian Jon Richardson spends a lot of time worrying about things. But the question is, are they really worth losing sleep over?

Each week, Jon airs some of his 'many, many worries' and discusses them with two fellow comedians, who will then rate how valid and severe each worry actually is.

As the eight-part series kicks off tonight, Jon is joined by Suzi Ruffell and Josh Widdicombe to talk about anxieties around 'The Home', such as: Is it possible to get bored? Do we get enough sleep? And are people loading dishwashers correctly?

Jon Richardson shares some of his anxieties...

Mum's not the word for spider monkey Kiara...

REALITY

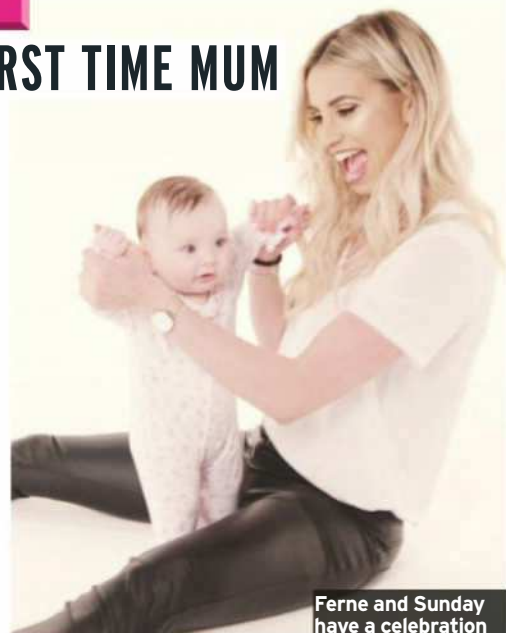

FERNE MCCANN: FIRST TIME MUM

9pm ITVBe

It's the third and final episode of the fly-on-the wall series, which follows I'm a Celebrity runner-up and former TOWIE star Ferne McCann as she copes with life as a single mum.

Most new mothers wait until their baby has reached their first birthday to throw a party, but not Ferne. Her little girl, Sunday, is almost six months old, which in Ferne's eyes is as good a milestone as any. Well, why the heck not?! Any excuse to crack open the Prosecco!

As well as planning a party with a baby bug theme, Ferne also interviews potential nannies.

Ferne and Sunday have a celebration

Emmerdale

ITV, 7.00pm Bernice gets caught in the middle as an angry Dan tells Daz to pack up and leave the village.

Coronation Street

ITV, 8.30pm Zeedan gets the wrong idea when he spots Sophie trying to comfort an upset Kate on the bench.

MUST SEE TV THURSDAY

Trisha Goddard talks about living with depression...

DOCUMENTARY

ME AND MY MENTAL HEALTH

10pm Channel 5

To mark Mental Health Awareness Week, this one-off documentary features celebrities talking about their battles with mental illness.

Known as the queen of UK daytime TV back in the early noughties, Trisha Goddard talks about the depression that has dominated most of her life.

She's joined by broadcaster and I'm a Celebrity runner-up Iain Lee (inset), model Lily Bailey and BAFTA-winning actor Adam Deacon to talk candidly about their personal experiences.

Ruth and Emily hope to wow a potential investor

BUSINESS

MILLION POUND MENU

9pm BBC2

Fred Sirieix (inset) always offers a shoulder to cry on in First Dates - and he's doing the same for the aspiring restaurant owners in this new show.

Each compelling episode sees two sets of foodies run pop-up restaurants and try to win over potential investors who are scrutinising their every move. First up tonight are young and talented pals Ruth and Emily, who go all out to land £600,000 for their British-inspired venture. Meanwhile, driven Scot Ewen wants £100,000 to launch a seafood eatery.

The most gripping moment comes when, after three days at the helm, the participants wait in their empty restaurant to see if an investor will return with some life-changing cash...

DOCUMENTARY

FOR THE LOVE OF DOGS: INDIA

8.30pm ITV

As the series comes to an end, Paul's stay in Delhi is almost over, but it doesn't look like he'll be going home alone!

When he meets Friendicoes' oldest resident, a scruffy black labrador called Kaloo, Paul is smitten... and it seems the feeling's mutual! As the dog hangs on to his every word, responding with Scooby-Doo-like barks, Paul wonders if he can take his new pal home...

Also, two street pups are rescued, but the behaviour of one pooch causes concern...

DOCUMENTARY

KID CRIMINALS

10pm Really

This two-part documentary follows the inmates and staff of the Pendleton Juvenile Correctional Facility in Indiana.

Among the staff we meet is no-nonsense counsellor Tammi Prince. And it's amazing to watch her work with Tavarus McLean, 14, who's on the verge of a breakthrough in his counselling sessions.

We also meet repeat offender William McConnell, 18, who's unhappy at facing another birthday inside, and Garrett Clutter, 15, who says, 'I know right from wrong. It's just that I choose to do wrong.'

DRAMA

HUMANS

NEW SERIES

9pm C4

The new series of the dystopian sci-fi drama begins a year after the momentous events of the second series finale when the synthetic humans became conscious beings with minds of their own.

Their immediate decision to down tools led to worldwide chaos and the loss of 110,000 human lives. Now feared and hated by humans, the man-made robots struggle to have any rights in a society that segregates, oppresses and even lynches them. And the stage is set for another compelling and thought-provoking series...

While synths Max and Mia believe a peaceful approach will get their voices heard, some of their fellow synths believe that the only way forward is by making a violent protest...

The synths make a stand against the human race...

Find out what life is like for the inmates and staff at Pendleton

COMEDY

THE WEEK THAT WASN'T

NEW SERIES

10pm Sky One

Alastair McGowan is reunited with his Big Impression co-star, Ronni Ancona, in this new show, which sees impressionists voice-over some of the week's events.

Recorded just before going on air, we don't know who'll feature in this first show, but no one is safe, from politicians and world leaders to sporting stars and celebs.

We have, however, been given a taste of what to expect, such as Paul Hollywood adding some special ingredients to spice up Bake Off and North Korean leader Kim Jong-un on a stag do.

Will Boris Johnson get lampooned tonight?

EastEnders

BBC1, 7.30pm There's trouble at the Queen Vic as Mick wakes up in bed with Hayley – just as Linda walks in.

Emmerdale

ITV, 8.00pm A scuffle breaks out at the engagement party, when Cain tells Ross to stop harrasing Moira.

MUST SEE TV FRIDAY

Jackie's surprise party is no surprise to her...

COMEDY

FRIDAY NIGHT DINNER

10pm C4

There's great excitement at the Goodmans' house because a surprise party has been organised to celebrate Jackie's birthday.

But as her sons, Adam and Jonny, point out, it won't come as much a surprise to their mum because she's the one who forced their dad, Martin, to organise the bash! What could possibly go wrong?

Knowing what normally happens to this lot of a Friday night, quite a lot! There's inviting people on the wrong date for starters, which leads to Martin having to invite whatever guests he can round up at the last minute - which, of course, includes weird neighbour Jim and his dog, Wilson...

The countdown to Harry and Meghan's wedding day is almost complete!

SPECIAL

THE ROYAL WEDDING: THEY'RE GETTING MARRIED IN THE MORNING

7pm BBC1

If you're not into the whole royal thing, the onslaught of royalty-related telly is almost over because today is the eve of Harry and Meghan's wedding...

For those who love a royal wedding, Kirsty Young, Dermot O'Leary and Huw Edwards look ahead to the big day in this programme, which features interviews with those involved as well as coverage of the excitement on the streets.

Of course, if you really love a royal wedding, you'll have to record this live special, because you're probably already camping outside Kensington Palace or on your way to Windsor!

DRAMA

THE BRIDGE

9pm BBC2

As the fourth and final season of the Scandi drama continues, the Swedish and Danish police must once again join forces.

Murdered Margrethe was Danish, and the suspects are Swedish - but grumpy Danish cop Jonas is not happy about the alliance. Meanwhile, cheeky Patrik is about to find out that impersonating his twin, Richard, is a risky game.

Plus, a pair of pickpockets get mixed up in something big and a beaten wife finds herself in a very strange place.

And what is Margrethe's dodgy widower, Niels, hiding?

Niels is hiding something...

COMEDY

HIGH AND DRY

10.30pm C4

The castaways are running out of the food they salvaged from the crash, so there's only one thing to do... and that's start hunting the local wildlife!

But when Douglas returns from hunting with a hawksbill turtle, how will that go down with his fellow survivors?

Meanwhile, Brett and his sidekick Arnab create team 'Branab' to stalk Harriet and find out what she's hiding in her case. But all hell breaks loose when she finds Brett rifling through her stuff. Plus, Susan tries to seduce Douglas with an inhaler! Don't ask...

DOCUMENTARY

OUR WILDEST DREAMS

8pm C4

With their home in Biggleswade, Bedfordshire, being repossessed, Lynn and Richard thought their life would improve if they left the UK for a new start in Portugal.

But after avoiding forest fires and running out of money, their dream soon began to fade...

As the series of extreme moves continues tonight, we follow the couple and their two daughters on their Portuguese odyssey.

With Richard hitting granite to build a 'Celtic-style roundhouse', this week's episode is like a very stressful Grand Designs!

A house is high on the pecking order for Lynn, Richard and their girls

Brett is on Harriet's case...

CARGO

Netflix

Martin Freeman has come a long way since his breakthrough role as Tim in The Office. And this new zombie film is the furthest he has ever got from the world of David Brent and Wernham Hogg.

He plays husband and father Andy, who's living on a houseboat with his family when a virus turns most of the world's population into flesh-eating monsters.

When his wife, Kay, is bitten by a zombie, Andy faces a tough decision. But his situation gets even worse when his other half bites him! He has 48 hours to get his baby, Rosie, to a safe haven before he becomes a zombie...

Andy needs to get Rosie to safety...

EastEnders

BBC1, 8.00pm Carmel vows revenge when she realises Ian is exploiting the children's party to canvas for votes.

Coronation Street

ITV, 8.30pm Eileen is pleased to get a warm welcome from Steve and Tim upon her return to the taxi office.

Romance for Harriet & Graham?

If Emmerdale's Graham Foster has to be paired up with anyone, wouldn't it make more sense to put him with Harriet Finch and not Megan Macey? Both vicar Harriet and Graham have strong moral codes - Harriet's also single, unlike Megan, and Harriet is an ex-cop and Graham is ex-Army. Well-suited!

Rainie returns!

I can't believe Max Branning married Rainie Cross! Not even best man Robbie Jackson knew who the surprise bride was! And all so Max can secure custody of granddaughter Abi. This can't end well! Or can it?

Sarah Walter, Kent

Hurray for David!

David Platt has finally confided in Shona Ramsey! Hurrah! Let's hope the Corrie rape victim gets the help he needs...

Tracey Griffin, Bristol

So Donna Yates is phoning foster mum Claudette Hubbard in EastEnders. Is Claudette on her way back to the show?

Melanie Gibson, London

Evil Darcy Wilde and her scheming ways may be long gone from Hollyoaks, but I still fear Adam Donovan's downward spiral will continue, even without her manipulations!

Zoe Davison, West Yorkshire

Emmerdale is crime central

The vet surgery is becoming a crime hub! Lisa Dingle was almost killed with ketamine from vet Vanessa Woodfield, and Ross Barton was seen nicking drugs. What next? A cat burglary with real cats?

YOUR STARS

Aquarius 20 Jan to 19 Feb

Projects that have been on the back burner will burst into life again and people will suddenly make decisions that affect you.

Starline: 0905 817 0424*

Pisces 20 Feb to 20 March

You're at the start of a learning curve but you're gaining experience. Awkward moments will soon feel like ancient history.

Starline: 0905 817 0425*

Aries 21 March to 21 April

Mars meets Uranus on Wednesday. Uranus likes to spring surprises, so what happens probably won't be quite what you expect.

Starline: 0905 817 0414*

Taurus 22 April to 21 May

Uranus, the planet of change, makes its way into your sign and will stay for 30 years, transforming your life in unexpected ways!

Starline: 0905 817 0415*

Gemini 22 May to 21 June

If you can channel the cosmic energy out into the world instead of using it to beat yourself up, all will go just swimmingly!

Starline: 0905 817 0416*

Cancer 22 June to 22 July

If you can face up to the monster you're running from, you'll discover it's actually a toothless, noisy, rather harmless old ogre.

Starline: 0905 817 0417*

Leo 23 July to 22 August

Change is coming! Things that have been hovering over you at work will take shape - allowing you to finally make some plans.

Starline: 0905 817 0418*

Virgo 23 August to 22 Sept

This week's big changes in Taurus will make you see where there are opportunities for you to shine. Stop hiding your talents!

Starline: 0905 817 0419*

Libra 23 Sept to 22 Oct

You sense people are not being completely straight with you. Things will become much clearer around the New Moon on Tuesday.

Starline: 0905 817 0420*

Scorpio 23 Oct to 21 Nov

You're not usually pushy but reminding people to stick to their promises won't harm you - or them! Time to rock the boat a little.

Starline: 0905 817 0421*

Sagittarius 22 Nov to 20 Dec

You sense something big is just round the corner. Remind yourself you're fabulous, then ask the Universe to bring it on!

Starline: 0905 817 0422*

Capricorn 21 Dec to 19 Jan

More thought and less impulse buying will make a difference to your bank balance. But make sure you're not stingy with the love!

WHAT NEXT?

WHAT EVERYONE WILL BE TALKING ABOUT...

Coronation Street

ZEEDAN

ARRESTED?

Zeedan Nazir's terrified he'll be arrested for his vicious assault on pub sex pest Phil.

Fans already know Zeedan actor Qasim Akhtar is leaving the show soon. Could this be his exit storyline and will he end up in jail?

Hollyoaks

GLENN GETS GRUESOME?

Glenn Donovan is furious when he learns one of his dodgy deals has gone awry and he suspects somebody is to blame...

Will the gangster get gruesome to ensure they decide to play ball, and will that mean he has more blood on his hands?

EastEnders

HAYLEY CAUSES MORE CHAOS?

'Hurricane' Hayley Slater has blown her way back into Albert Square. She's already upset all the market traders, been thrown out of The Vic by Linda Carter, and ruined Stacey Fowler's bid to reunite with Martin. And we're told there's lots more trouble brewing...

Emmerdale

REVENGE FOR ROSS?

Ross Barton is on the hunt for his attacker, Simon McManus, after the case against him collapsed in court. So it's only a matter of time before Ross catches up with him and secures justice himself.

But could tragedy be looming when he goes gunning for revenge?
