This Delightfull piece is an elegant look full of refinement and modernity.

26

Laluna | St. George | Grenada

Nestled into a private hillside on one of Grenada's most secluded beaches, Laluna is an escape to a private paradise. While Laluna's 16 thatched-roof cottages are rich in West Indian details, the open-air structures embrace an Asian design theme. Indonesian teak wood furniture is perfectly contrasted by a rainbow of bold colors and warm tones. For Laluna's stunning cottages, the design team has gone for a West Indian take on "concrete chic" with dappled amber, mauve and russet walls, built-in counters and couches, and swirling floor designs covered by simple straw rugs.

27

The Beach Samui | Koh Samui | Thailand

Nestled on the southern edge of Koh Samui, overlooking a marine park that's speckled with humpbacked tropical islands, there's a place where turquoise waves lap at the soft white shoreline. The 21st-century design subtly pays homage to Thai culture by using sustainable materials and traditional arts, such as the ornately crafted red lacquer doors and the intricately carved wooden screens. The sophisticated interior design incorporates an airy open plan living area with floor to ceiling windows opening on to dramatic sea views. A concertina wall can be folded back so you can wake up to the sight of the sea and islands from the comfort of your luxurious bed.

28

Indigo Pearl | Nai Yang | Thailand

One doesn't often associate industrial design with an unspoiled beach. But in Thailand, at all suites and villas Indigo Pearl resort, nestled on the lush Nai Yang beach on the north-west coast of Phuket, metal is alluringly mixed with traditional Thai décor and cutting-edge art.

29

Casa de la Flora | Phang Nga | Thailand

An example of urban design quietly nestled among an oasis of natural serenity, Casa de La Flora sits in Khao Lak, Thailand, on the shore of the Andaman Sea. With its linear planes evocative of a Le Corbusier edifice, Casa de La Flora is a vision of Brutalism. Concrete is omnipresent throughout; its dominance handled with precision and care. Natural materials such as teakwood temper the minimalist interiors with an infusion of warmth, augmented by monochromatic schemes and lighting designed by APLD.

30

Humble House | Taipei | Taiwan

Located on the top floors of a “Diamond-rated Green Building” in the heart of Xinyi—the capital’s vibrant shopping, commerce, and entertainment district—Humble House Taipei merges design, green living, and art into one breathtaking property overlooking the city’s rooftops. 31

Nest Hotel | Incheon | South Korea

Nest hotel was designed with cozy nuances and a natural motif so that guests can stay at a home away from home. With a focus on being a hideout for travelers, the hotel's architecture centers on the nature outside. The high-ceilinged lobby is an impressive showcase for the hotel's bold style—exposed concrete, waffle ceiling, and glass walls form the perfect stage for the beauty outside.

32

Wanderlust | Little India | Singapore

Combining a sense of artistic whimsy with cutting-edge design, the Wanderlust in Singapore's Little India was created with adventurous travelers in mind. : 'Industrial Glam' is a juxtaposition of the hotel's Little India setting and contemporary design. Stealing attention right at the door is a curved feature wall plastered with a meandering montage of vintage print ads that reflect the neighbourhood's culture.

33

Glad Hotel Yeouido | Seoul | Korea

The hotel's facade, with its unusual brick pattern, immediately stands out from its neighbors' modernist glass buildings. Hotel re-designed the interior by simulating the actual movements of their guests, and boldly did away with unnecessary elements from their viewpoint. Thanks to this hotel's tone is courteous yet casual and engaging.

34

Klapsons Boutique Hotel | Singapore

Not many hotels ensconce their check-in counter in a five-meter stainless steel orb or invite guests to lounge upon a seductive Moraine sofa by Zaha Hadid in their lobby. As guests step through the glass doors of klapsons, the combination of five-star luxury and a distinctive sensitivity toward contemporary design immediately makes itself apparent.

35

New Majestic Hotel | Singapore

A revamped historic hotel on a Chinatown street in Singapore once notorious for housing wealthy men's mistresses, the New Majestic, with its shophouse façade, blends perfectly with the neighborhood.

History is blended with modernity, international design with local inspiration – presenting a cutting-edge product of our time. From the open concept period-inspired lobby with restored vintage Compton fans to the dramatic pool with glass inserts floating above the restaurant, to the selection of period colonial furniture from Singapore in the 1920s-1960s, New Majestic Hotel is a stunning and eclectic mix of heritage chic.

The Old Clare Hotel | Chippendale | Australia

Stretching across two iconic heritage-listed buildings – The Clare Hotel pub and the Carlton & United Breweries Administration Building – the hotel has been constructed with obsessive attention to aesthetics and concern for retaining the interesting features of both buildings. Rooms on the first three levels provide an unpretentious yet luxurious, semi-industrial feel and showcase the heritage aspects of the buildings with exposed brick, concrete, and timber paneling. Rooms on the top level are loft style with a more contemporary feel and include a generous lounge with bed and bathroom on an upper floor.

Adelphi Hotel | Melbourne | Australia

Built in 1938, it operated as a soft goods warehouse, until it was purchased in the late 80s by visionary architects, Denton Corker Marshall, and converted into an utterly unique boutique hotel. The recent transformation of Adelphi Hotel was undertaken by Melbourne-based design practice, Hachem. With interiors inspired by sweets and desserts, guests are taken on a tasteful, Willy Wonka-esque journey.

Hotel Hotel | Canberra | Australia

Hotel rooms have taken inspiration from the Australian shack. Clay rendered walls, salvaged oak beds, overhead rain showers, and windows that open. Each room has been dressed with carefully chosen artworks, objects and restored furniture. They reflect love for the well made, the curious and the comfortable.

Le Pigalle | Paris | France

Mythical and imposing, languid and frenetic, Pigalle is a neon light in the Parisian night. The neighbourhood has always attracted thugs and artists, musicians and adventurers. Therefore hotel's history was shaped by the cultural mix that swirls on the southern slopes of Montmartre. All the rooms have a strong Parisian identity. They are decorated in the style of the area, known as La Nouvelle Athènes for its neoclassical architecture, which inspired artists and poets in the late nineteenth century. And they convey a specific image of Pigalle: historic, modern, decadent, multicultural, musical. They are simple and comfortable, full of domestic touches, more like a friend's bedroom than a cookie-cutter hotel room. Each is a collection of objects, souvenirs, music, books and second-hand furniture, with a personality all of its own.

77

Hôtel Providence | Paris | France

The hotel was built in 1854 and has witnessed the dramatic evolution of this neighborhood which includes the Haut-Marais, Beaubourg and the Saint Martin Canal. The decor of the Hotel Providence personifies a typical Parisian atmosphere: a cosy fire place, architectural details, Pointe de Hongrie wooden floors, and marble mosaics. Each room is individually decorated with designer fabric and tastefully chosen vintage furniture.

78

Hotel Vernet | Paris | France

The hôtel Vernet is a sumptuous Parisian building in the legendary and true « Haussmann » style. Entirely renovated and refurbished in 2014 by its new owners, the Hotel Vernet revives the tradition of the great Parisian establishments of the chic 8th arrondissement of Paris by offering itself the distinction of a contemporary interior created by Interior designer François Champsaur, who pays tribute to Parisian elegance and French craftsmanship.

79

Les Bains | Paris | France

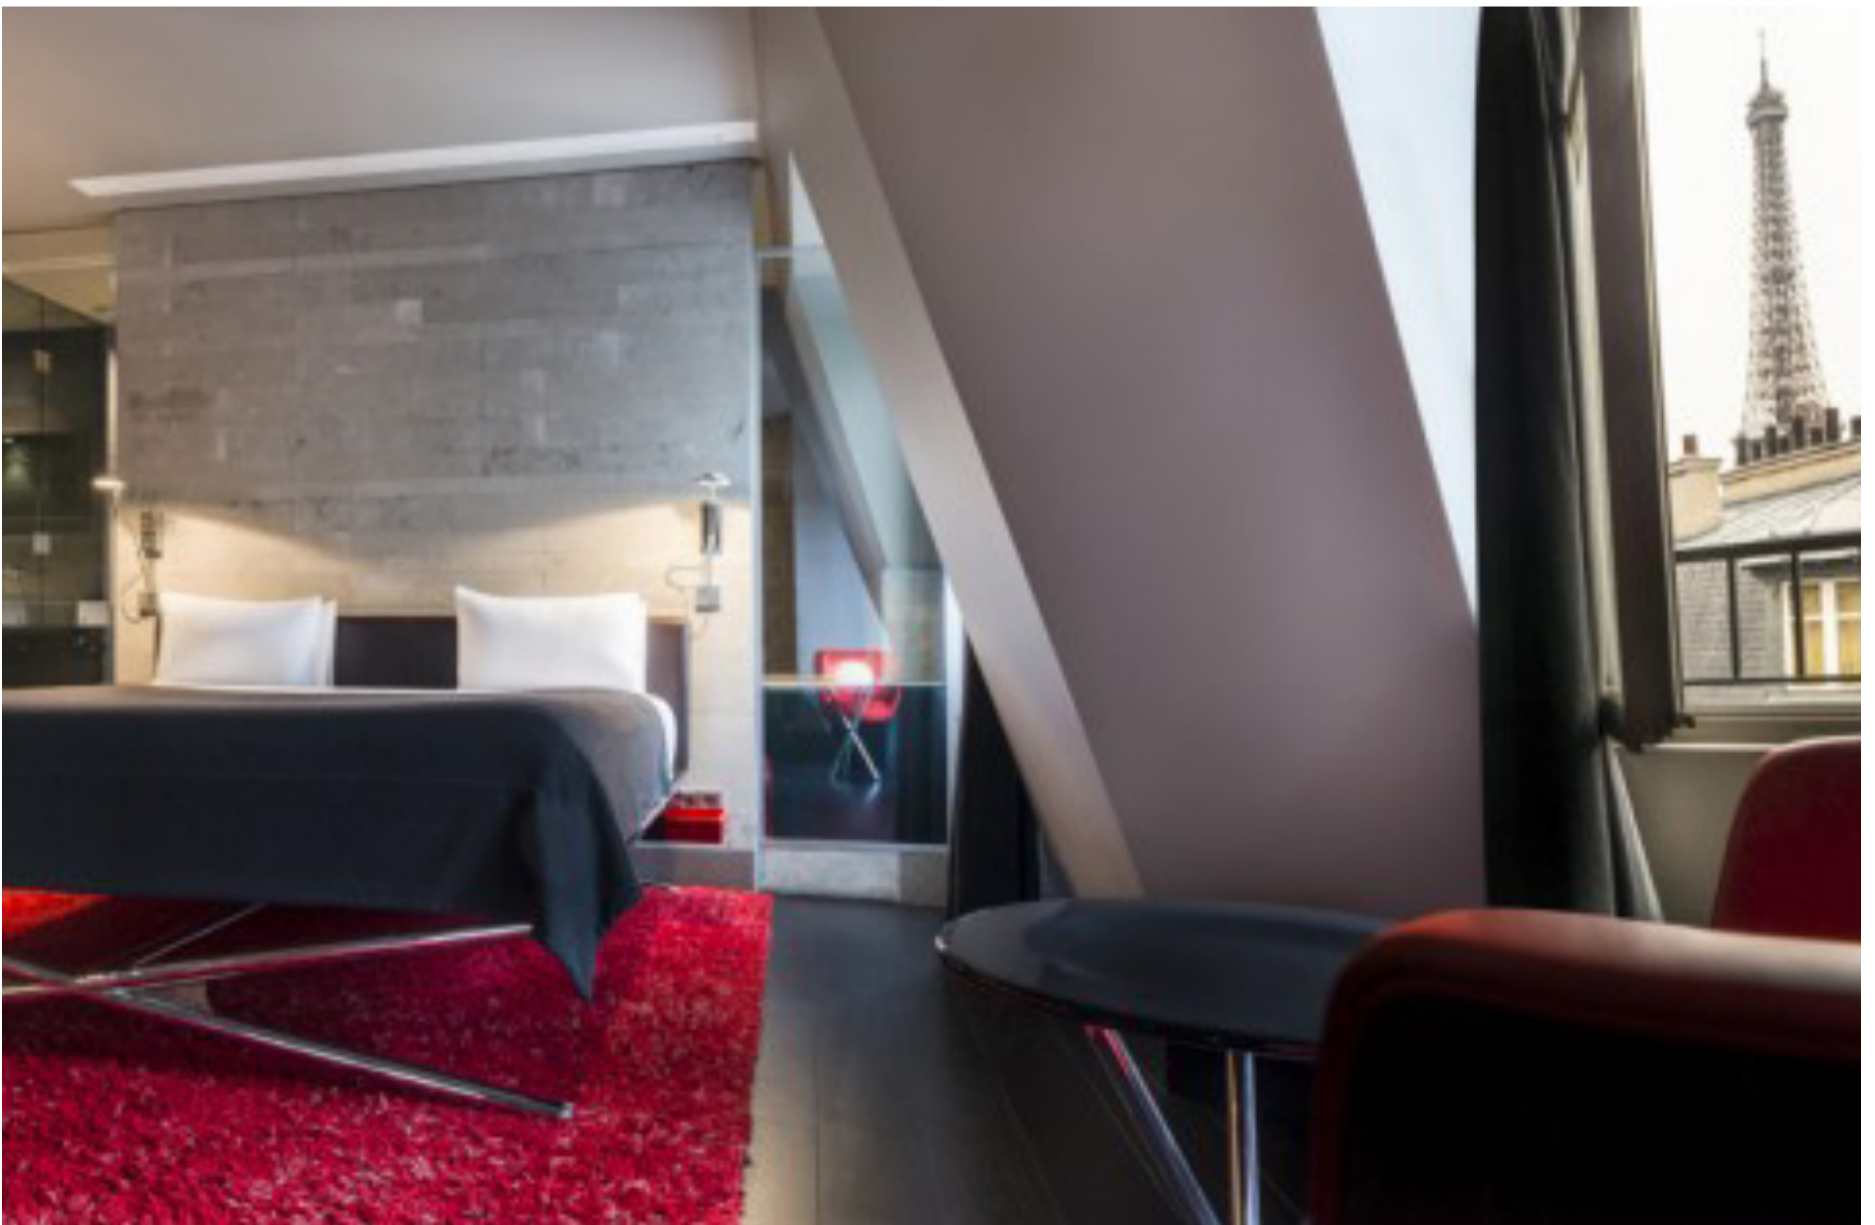

Behind a Haussmannian façade lays an experimental palace of red-lacquer pillars, teardrop-shaped ceilings, and inviting social spaces. Hotel's stunning interiors are characterized by distressed leather chairs and sofas in the honesty bar, a graffiti-clad enclosed patio, and statement carpets.

80

Hotel Sezz | Paris | France

In close collaboration with Christophe Pillet, Shahé Kalaidjian, the hotel's director, has created a venue that bears the stamp of authenticity. Noble and natural material, specially designed furniture combined with contrasting tones exudes cosmopolitan and Zen-like atmosphere. The rooms and suites are in style of perfect bachelor pads. Floors laid with wide boards of dark wood, covered with deep pile tomato red or mustard tone rugs, grey stone from Cascais on the wall. Executive swivel chairs and swept chrome stools by Driade sit by brushed teak finish desks, which are inset with steel light fittings.

Hotel de Nell | Paris | France

The facade of the 19th-century building was restored to its immaculate former glory, with a white palette that carries on from the exterior through to the rooms and common spaces. The interiors of a great Paris hotel showcase design by acclaimed architect Jean-Michel Wilmotte, who focused on environmental sustainability and local integration. Distinct features such as French pavement in the entrance, natural wood panelling in the corridors and rooms, long roaring fireplaces and retro lighting, lend the minimal interiors a coziness and authenticity.

82

Domaine Des Andéols | Saint-Saturnin-lès-Apt | France

At Domaine des Andéols, the organic shapes and colors that define the Provençal landscape take on new meaning in juxtaposition to its pure lines, bespoke spaces, and very personal collection of art and furniture. Paintings once found in museums now hang at the hotel, while exhibitions, organized in collaboration with Parisian gallery Kammel Mennour, surround guests with the work of photographers such as Nobuyoshi Araki, Ellen Von Unwerth, and Daido Moriyama. Klieg lights making a fitting design touch in a hotel that can feel like both a showcase gallery and a warm, welcoming home to its appreciative guests who journey here from around the world.

Hotel de Turrel | Saint-Rémy-de-Provence | France

New life has been breathed into the historic former residence of the noble family de Turrel d'Almeran from Saint-Rémy. The outstanding architecture of this private mansion dating back to the 17th century inspired Ralph Huesgen and Margot Staenge to incorporate more than three centuries of life into the design, with 1920s flair and a hint of modernity. Interiors are appointed with handmade furniture, lamps, beds & bed linen, parquet floors and natural stone bathrooms.

Hotel Bel Ami | Paris | France

The hotel's architecture features two exposed external walls, giving each room a special light according to its direction and floor. Inspired by Hotel Bel Ami's literary background as a 19th-century printworks, the newly refurbished bedrooms have been conceived as elegant environments with a focus on minimalism. Inside, luxury fabrics and bright colors create an elegant, yet cutting-edge atmosphere. Rooms and suites feature natural grey furnishing offset by green and blue tones that allude to the evening hues of Paris.

85

La Maison Champs Élysées | Paris | France

Located between Avenue Montaigne and the Grand Palais, the Maison Champs Élysées opens the doors to a new world of luxury and poetry, a relaxed atmosphere in which minimalism is enhanced by an incredible attention to detail. Decorated by Martin Margiela, the Maison Champs Élysées successfully combines classical and avant-garde styles to create an elegant, relaxing environment. The playful decor, special atmosphere and exceptional service make this a magical place, to which you are sure to want to return.

House Hotel Galatasaray | Istanbul | Turkey

Housed in the historic 1890s Zenovitch Apartment, the hotel opened in April 2010. Renovated by Turkish design collaborator - international award-winning Autoban Design firm - the building retains its original shuttered façade, marble staircase and ceramic tiled reception. In stark contrast to the subtle wall decorations, the hotel's floors are a study in swirling crests and hexagons, which also appear on certain ceilings, handrails and screens. Brass-studded leather sofas in the roof lounge hug a sizzling fireplace carved from solid stone, tucked beneath exposed wooden beams.

87

Oddfellows On The Park | Cheadle | UK

Brand new hotel set within a beautiful Victorian mansion. Although playfully decorated, comfort is considered at every turn. Beds are at least a 5ft king-size and showers are wonderfully powerful. Although the original features in these Victorian bedrooms take precedent, luxurious bathrooms are distinctly modern. The Galloping Major restaurant is situated in what was once the original owner's ballroom. Huge windows open the room out to the park, bringing the light in and highlighting amazing original features.

88

Das Triest | Vienna | Austria

Over 300 years ago DAS TRIEST was a staging post on the horse-drawn mail coach route between Vienna and Trieste. The challenge of DAS TRIEST was to transform the dated hotel "Stadt Triest" into a unique boutique hotel, characterised by stylish contemporary design and subtle luxury. Today it is an outstanding example of how to successfully combine a modern look with a traditional building. The old vaulted stables have become salons, suites and conference rooms equipped with state-of-the-art technology while featuring the distinctive flair of DAS TRIEST.

H15 Boutique Hotel | Warsaw | Poland

These brand new apartments have just been opened & are situated in a XIX century building where the past meets the present. The architect preserved the neoclassical socialist façade while also cleverly drawing one's attention to the hotel's black-and-white checkered patio, which not only serves as a lobby but as a venue for important cultural events. Award-winning designer Mariola Tomczak used calm color tones, natural oak floors, and glass walls between the bedroom and the bath areas to brilliantly open up the hotel's interior space. Original works by Polish photographer and fine artist Rita Zimmerman give each suite its own individual feel, while the building's historical character is emphasized through the preservation of its high ceilings.

90

Hotel B Design&Spa | Paradou | France

A newly built two-story retreat, Hotel B Design & Spa does a marvelous job of fitting in with the rustic farmhouses and sweet-smelling lavender fields of rural Provence. Inside, designer Christophe Pillet has emphasized swooping modern contours and broad open spaces. Glass panes scatter the light that streams in through black slatted doors, illuminating open spaces, while understated yet ultra-comfortable sofas and armchairs designed by Pillet and French upholstery pioneers Neology provide somewhere to enjoy the simplicity of the design. Everything you see – from the solid wooden tables to the black metal balustrades – has been built with quality in mind.

South Place Hotel | London | UK

South Place is a luxury five-star hotel in the City of London. 80 bedrooms are all designed by Conran + Partners, blending modern technology with comfort; they're perfect for those travelling for work or play. Conran's iconic signature continues throughout; across the ground floor brasserie, our Michelin-starred rooftop seafood restaurant, our bars, dens and terraces. Even the meeting and event spaces, and the spa and gym feature their creative stamp. Inspired details and playful touches mirror the vibrant neighborhood, a deft mixture of the contemporary City, London's most historic quarters and the achingly cool East End.

Number Sixteen | London | UK

With its wrought-iron balustrades and column-supported porticoes, only the corresponding house number suggests that the white-stucco Victorian terrace is the hotel Number Sixteen – and not an upscale private residence, situated just steps from London’s major museums and Harrods. The eclectic furnishings – a mix of antique, contemporary and ethnic accents – keep the aesthetic fresh and elegantly eccentric. Pretty detailing such as colorful glass beads on cushions and shell buttons stitched on to curtains give the rooms a feminine quality, while bold prints and trademark flourishes such as oversized headboards mean they don’t feel too dainty.

93

The Knightsbridge Hotel | London | UK

One more hotel created by a top interior designer Kit Kemp. Her classically British aesthetic pays careful attention to each room, filling it with modern English style, featuring clean neutrals and bold colors. Art lovers will adore the Carol Sinclair sculpture that rises like stalagmites from the floor, but the art does not overshadow Kemp's signature harmonious mixture of patterns, fabrics, and furniture styles.

94

Ham Yard Hotel | London | UK

In the midst of Soho and moments from Mayfair, Ham Yard Hotel has an urban village feel. The hotel revolves around a tree-filled garden with a bronze sculpture centrepiece by Tony Cragg. Interiors are designed by Kit Kemp in her award-winning modern British style. Her innovative mix of colour, pattern, texture and art is world renowned and her flair is perfectly showcased in the unique rooms and suites of the hotel. Each room is generously sized and features floor-to-ceiling-length windows overlooking the leafy courtyard or across the London skyline.

95

The Soho Hotel | London | UK

The Soho Hotel has 96 individually designed bedrooms and suites and is situated on a quiet street in the heart of London's entertainment neighbourhood. It is surrounded by some of London's best restaurants and bars, vibrant cafes and most exciting theatre and nightlife. Each of the 96 bedrooms and suites at The Soho Hotel have floor-to-ceiling warehouse style windows. All rooms have been designed in an individual style by design director and owner Kit Kemp in her fresh modern English style.

96

Haymarket Hotel | London | UK

Haymarket Hotel is situated on the corner of Haymarket and Suffolk Place in the heart of London's theatre district. It is next door to the famous Haymarket Theatre Royal and is surrounded by some of London's best restaurants and bars. A mix of modern British and classical references, the spacious rooms and suites at this ultra central London hotel are a bold step away from cookie-cutter minimalism. Each of the 50 bedrooms and suites feature different vibrant fabric walls, luscious materials, and custom-designed furniture.

97

Boundary Hotel | London | UK

Boundary includes three award-winning restaurants and bars, twelve individually designed guest bedrooms, five individually designed suites, a British food store and a bakery. A visit to Boundary is a new journey every time, the perfect mixture of great food and drink experiences, luxury hotel and the feeling you are in someone's private designer home. Boundary's architecture is a tribute to Shoreditch, and the confluence of old and new. The dilapidated Victorian warehouse was restored and a striking copper, steel and glass extension has been added. Over fifty artists and designers contributed bespoke commissions for the interior. The twelve elegant guestrooms are inspired by a legendary designer or design movement, from Le Corbusier and Eames to Shaker and Bauhaus.

98

La Réserve Ramatuelle | Ramatuelle | France

With its streamlined lines and spectacular volumes, the building's architecture and interior decoration have been redone by Jean-Michel Wilmotte, to create a delicately perched contemporary vessel overlooking the sea. Amid the chic ambience enhanced by natural materials, the subtle palette of mineral nuances is interpreted across a kaleidoscope of ochre, white and sandy tones, offering a dazzling reflection of Southern light.

99

Dorset Square Hotel | London | UK

Dorset Square Hotel is a beautiful Regency townhouse with 38 individually designed bedrooms. A beautiful collection of cricket memorabilia is displayed throughout the hotel. There are a few special rooms such as the Marylebone Room which has a tailored feel with its grey wool suiting walls and library.

100

Covent Garden Hotel | London | UK

The Covent Garden Hotel is a haven of discreet glamour in the heart of Covent Garden, attracting a discerning, well-heeled clientele from the film and media industries. The drawing room at the Covent Garden Hotel is tucked away on the hotel's first floor providing a private and exclusive area for guests. It is a spacious, wood-paneled room with vivid upholstery, a French stone fireplace and quirky furniture. It leads into the more intimate Tiffany's Library with a fireplace and honor bar.
